If anyone had been living in the second and third floor apartments of this building, they might have been killed when heavy wind storms tore the brick front wall away. But the apartments were being remodeled and were empty. This scene is on West 25th St. near Lorain Ave., in Cleveland. The sign in the market window says "Going Out Of Business. Buy at Cost." This was one incident in a series of wind storms which hit Ohio. (AP Wirephoto.)

Churchill Keeping Plans A Mystery

Winnie Tosses Question Of His Retirement Up In Air Again

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill made a cryptic comment Tuesday on published reports he is about to retire and then went to Buckingham Palace Tuesday night for his weekly chat with Queen Elizabeth II. He stayed nearly an hour—three times as long as usual.

If Churchill has decided to retire—and close friends say he has—the Queen would be the first person he must tell. Such a decision would be announced later from No. 10 Downing St. the Prime Minister's London residence.

Churchill's weekly audiences with the Queen usually last about 20 minutes. As he left his spectacles dropped to the end of his nose as he read an evening paper. Its headlines splashed reports speculating on his future political plans.

Earlier Tuesday in the House of Commons Churchill mystified his fellow members by shrugging off newspaper stories his Conservative party colleagues were urging him to retire. He described the reports as "chatter in the press."

No Statement

The 80-year-old Prime Minister's statement had the immediate effect of throwing the whole question of his future up in the air again. It came after every major newspaper in the country had predicted he was getting ready to turn over the reins of government to his political heir-apparent, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

This could or could not be the case now. His statement Tuesday definitely established only this point—whatever Churchill's plans are, he does not intend to make them known at this moment.

In an attempt to get Churchill to commit himself, Laborite Emanuel Shinwell intervened in a discussion of ministerial appointments and asked:

"Will he (Churchill) have any further opportunity of appointing ministers of Cabinet rank or any other, and is the report in Manchester Guardian that he is being pushed out by his Tory colleagues true?"

Churchill replied:

"He (Shinwell) must not be led away by all the chatter in the press, and he makes a mistake to indicate that he is one of those most prominently misled."

Official Announcement Will Be Made April 12 At Michigan Uni; Optimism Held

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter
NEW YORK (AP)—The official verdict on the Salk polio vaccine—perhaps signalling the end of polio—will be announced April 12.

Just how good the vaccine is to prevent paralytic polio will be disclosed by Dr. Thomas F. Francis Jr., University of Michigan, at a conference in Ann Arbor.

Dr. Francis has headed the team analyzing the results of vaccine trials involving nearly two million children.

The date and place for the eagerly-awaited verdict were announced jointly Tuesday night by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, and Dr. Harlan Hatcher, University of Michigan president, after a conference here.

Difficult Task

The foundation sponsored the vaccine research of Dr. Jonas E. Salk, University of Pittsburgh, and the difficult task of learning how effective it may be.

There was no hint in the announcement whether the vaccine protected children, or how well.

But unofficially there is optimism the vaccine was good, and that vaccinations can end the terror of polio.

If the report is favorable, and the vaccine is licensed by the National Institutes of Health, some 18 million persons, mostly children, are expected to be vaccinated this year.

The polio foundation will pay for and provide nine million vaccinations for all children in first and second grades of all public, private and parochial schools, and some in the third grades. Six pharmaceutical firms are supplying this vaccine.

These same firms are reported planning to supply enough vaccine for another nine million or more vaccinations, to be given by private physicians. Patients would, of course, pay for this vaccine and the doctor's services.

Three Shots

Vaccination consists of three shots, spaced about five weeks apart.

The retail cost of the vaccine for three shots is expected to be $5 to $6, some pharmaceutical firms say. The doctor's fee would be additional.

Some 440,000 children in the United States, Canada and Finland have received the vaccine. Another 210,000 received harmless shots of useless material, to compare what happened to them during the polio season. Another 1,180,000 children had no injections of either kind, but were followed to see if they developed polio.

In some test areas, no one knew whether a child getting the shots was receiving the real vaccine.

Newsman, radio and television representatives will be invited to attend the conference on the findings of the test. Physicians and scientists from all parts of the nation are also invited.

Registration Deadline Near

Only three more days remain in which to register for the April 5 primary city election.

Registration closes at 5 p.m. Friday, March 25. The office of election commissioner will be open from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday to handle late registrations.

Criticism of the organization of the Board of Control and means of improving Nebraska's welfare services were advanced by Dr. Frank Z. Glick Tuesday night.

Dr. Glick, director of the University of Nebraska Guidance School of Social Work, was guest speaker at the Unitarian Laymen's League meeting. He will assume the executive directorship of the Unitarian Service Commission in Boston this June.

Nebraska, he said, lacks "sound and appropriate administrative machinery" for doing public welfare work.

He stressed that he was referring to the form of organization and not the members of the Board of Control in his criticism.

Dr. Glick compared the organization of the board to an imaginary situation in which a three-member board of laymen would be appointed to take the place of both the Board of Regents and the Chancellor of the University of Nebraska.

"The use of a board of laymen," he said, "to act both as board of directors and administrator is an arrangement not found in other large enterprises, either in government or private business."

Dr. Glick based his criticism on these three factors:

1. The making of policy and the execution of policy are different and separate functions.

2. Good administration requires a well-defined hierarchy of authority at the top of which is a single individual vested with the financial say-so.

3. The executive personnel must know their business to administer any organization well.

Split Functions

The structural division of the board's duties into institutions on the one hand and non-institutional services, such as child welfare, on the other, he said, "is open to serious question."

A danger in this "lumping together," Dr. Glick said, is "that it will give you the habit of thinking about and administering institutions as buildings in which we have people instead of as people for whose treatment we have buildings."

Dr. Glick outlined the following set-up for replacing the present state public welfare organization in Nebraska:

1. There would be a seven-member board of public welfare, appointed by the governor and confirmed by the Legislature. It would be limited to making policy and other major decisions, plus advising the department director, in the same pattern now found in virtually all large business organizations and government agencies where boards are used.

2. Executive responsibility and authority would be vested in a department director appointed by the board on the basis of qualification by training and experience.

Welfare Grouped

3. All of the public welfare functions of the state, institutional and non-institutional, would be grouped

Humphrey Asks Probe Of Yalta Paper 'Leak'

Demo Asks 'Who Is The Spy In State Department?'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) proposed Tuesday night in the Senate that an investigation be undertaken to determine who "leaked" the Yalta papers.

"What kind of security system do we have in the State Department?" he demanded. "Who is the spy in the State Department?"

Earlier Tuesday Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) shouted to the Senate that publication of the papers on the 1945 conference of President Roosevelt, Joseph Stalin and Winston Churchill seemed to have been engineered in a maneuver aimed at the Democrats.

Johnson said the circumstances under which the documents got out of Secretary of State Dulles' department and into print "strongly suggest official collusion."

The New York Times obtained a copy of the Yalta papers from undisclosed sources early last week.

On Wednesday, at the urgent request of some Republican senators, Secretary of State Dulles reversed a previous decision and made the documents available to all reporters.

'Unauthorized'

Humphrey said the "leak" of the documents to the New York Times was "an unauthorized disclosure of classified material."

Sen. Bridges (R-NH), chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, said he agreed there "must have been an unauthorized leak."

He added he personally would be delighted to join in an effort to "ferret out" the person responsible.

Humphrey suggested that he, Bridges and Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, constitute a committee of three to investigate.

Knowland told the Senate he didn't condone the leaking of documents.

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) asked Knowland if he thought there had been "any official collusion between the New York Times and the State Department" with respect to the Yalta papers.

Knowland's reply was that if he were head of a department and knew someone in it "had engaged in any collusion, he (the employee) would not be there the next day."

Knowland also delivered a speech in which he denied statements in an earlier one by Sen. Lehman (D, Lib-NY).

Money

There is a bill pending before the present session which would submit such an amendment to a vote of the people, he said.

Manslaughter Is Verdict In Death

Davenport, Ia., Painter Now Faces 1-10 Years, May Appeal Case

By ALLEN EDEE and VIRGIL FALLON
Star Staff Writers

A District Court jury of six men and six women Tuesday night found George E. Mintun, 32-year-old Davenport, Ia., painter, guilty of manslaughter in the death of Mrs. Regina Hovland last Nov. 13.

The jury delivered its verdict at 8:35 p.m., after receiving the case four hours earlier.

Sentence could be between one and ten years.

Judge Paul White said sentencing would be delayed ten days, allowing time for an appeal to be made.

Mintun's attorney, Lyle Holland, said he "thinks" there will be an appeal. He was going to talk to Mintun about it Wednesday.

Mintun, who had come into the court room with his pretty wife, Lois, seemed stunned at the verdict. His swinging foot stopped in mid-air as the "guilty" verdict was announced by Judge White.

"I think he's going to want to appeal," Holland said after the verdict.

Rush To Lawyer

Mintun immediately rushed up to his attorney after the verdict was read.

A few seconds later Mintun and his wife stood before the judge as he ordered Mintun to the County Jail.

Holland said that Mintun "is going to try to get bail bond."

The attorney indicated that he thought the bond would be "no less and no more" than the $5,000 bond Mintun was under until the verdict was read.

Mintun attempted to hide his face from the camera leaving the court room escorted by Deputy Sheriff Les Hasson.

Wife In Tears

Mrs. Mintun burst into tears as she walked down the courthouse steps in the company of friends.

Mintun had come into the court room nervously puffing on a cigarette, but displayed little emotion either before or after the verdict.

The jury returned their verdict on a full stomach, at 8:15 p.m. four hours and three minutes after filing out of the court room.

The jury filed out of the court room at 4:31 p.m. and recessed at 5:45 p.m. for a meal at the Sunnyside.

1:53 Actual Time

The six men and six women returned at 7:10 p.m. and rang the bell at 7:54 p.m. for a total of one hour and fifty-three minutes of actual deliberation.

In summation of the two-day trial, Holland contended the state's evidence merely showed (1) the principals drank too much at the canasta party, (2) by 2 a.m. everything was pretty confused, and (3) the state's major witness, Mrs. Verda McNeil, didn't know what happened after Mrs. Hovland walked out the door.

Holland maintained that Mrs. Hovland probably walked out on the porch, with one shoe off, stumbled and fell off the porch and received injuries resulting in her death.

Dep. Co. Atty. Dale Fahrbruch told the jury the evening "wasn't a drunken orgy as the defense wants you to believe."

He charged that Mr. and Mrs. Frank McNeil, formerly of 2112 So. 13th and now of Bennet, remembered details that are "blanks" in Mintun's mind.

The state's testimony, Co. Atty. Elmer Scheele said, showed that Mintun had pushed and shoved Mrs. Hovland from the dining room to the kitchen to get her to go home and pushed her into the door, breaking the glass.

The state has charged that Mintun caused the death of Mrs. Hovland.

More Time For License Plates OKd

Committee Sends Measure To Floor

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

A bill aimed at lessening the annual congestion in Douglas County when motor vehicle license plates are distributed was heard by the public health and miscellaneous subjects committee of the Legislature Tuesday.

The measure was introduced by Sens. Sam Klaver and Charles Tvrdek of Omaha, who told of the long lines of auto owners waiting for license plates each year and the suffering and inconvenience caused them.

Sen. Tvrdek under questioning admitted that the lines do not bother him because he gets his plates by mail.

Sen. Klaver pointed out that there are 112,000 motor vehicles in the county and said it is "humanly impossible" to distribute the plates in the time now allowed by law.

Problems Told

Owen J. Boyles, chief of the motor vehicle division, told the committee of the problems connected with making and distributing the plates to the counties. He said that delays this year caused by "The Beef State" on the plates would make distribution impossible before Jan. 1.

The Klaver-Tvrdek bill, LB 199, proposed starting issuance of the plates on Dec. 1. Boyles offered an amendment which was adopted keeping the date Jan. 1 but extending the distribution deadline from Feb. 15 to March 1.

C. E. Berg, Lancaster County treasurer speaking for the treasurers association, and Fred Brun, Seward, speaking for the assessors of the state both spoke for the bill with the amendment. They opposed an earlier issuance date due to conflicts with other work.

Berg pointed out that long lines are kept at a minimum in Lancaster County because most people get their plates by mail.

Sen. Klaver after the hearing on LB 199 asked that LB 200 which would provide for issuing plates monthly be withdrawn and it was indefinitely postponed by the committee.

Icicle Temps Plan Return To Nebraska

New cold, pushing in to Nebraska Tuesday night, was expected to spread in to southeastern or eastern Nebraska Wednesday.

Some snow and strong winds are likely along with the cold.

Temperatures were to dip Wednesday and by Thursday morning reach a low of zero to 10 above.

Warmer weather that melted snow from the weekend storm prevailed over most of the state Tuesday.

But in the Panhandle strong winds whipped up dust and snow.

At Sidney visibility was limited to from half a mile to a mile by blowing dust. Winds of 40 to 50 miles an hour hit gusts of as much as 53.

At Kimball winds of similar strength swept up snow into a severe ground blizzard.

Today's Chuckle

Lad in the fourth grade couldn't seem to get the hang of long division and left all the answer spaces blank on his test paper. But printed in neat, square letters across the bottom of the sheet was "I can spell ghyssanthemum."

Doctor Confesses Killing 4

Prominent Young Medic Slays Wife And 3 Children

MCLESTER, Okla. (P)—A prominent young physician Tuesday described to officers in detail how he killed his wife and three small children and burned their bodies in the flames of their home.

Dr. Ben. T. Galbraith, 34, bludgeoned his wife with a wine bottle and gave her an overdose of morphine, he said, then gave the children morphine and a poisonous insecticide.

County Atty. James Whyte, who announced the confession, traced the motive to Galbraith's childhood of poverty and frustration.

While Galbraith was on his way to Tennessee with the cremated ashes of his once happy family, authorities here charged him with the murder of his wife.

"She was a wonderful wife to me. I loved her more than anyone else in the world but I just couldn't be happy with anyone," the short, ashen faced physician told Whyte. "After I killed her, I felt I had to kill the children."

Tries Suicide
Galbraith, who attempted suicide Monday, was placed under double guard at a McAlester hospital today. He was to be transferred to the Oklahoma State Penitentiary Hospital here.

After his confession, Whyte said Galbraith if there was anything he could do for him.

"Yes, I have one favor. I would like to die as quickly and privately as possible," he replied.

The sudden solution to the mystery that shocked this southeastern Oklahoma city of 18,000, was hastened by the curiosity of Howard Cowan, McAlester News-Capital editor, and three McAlester officials.

"They were dissatisfied with the explanation of the fire deaths of Mrs. Mary Katherine Galbraith, 35, and three children, Frank 7, Jere, 5, and Sarah Ann, 4.

Galbraith told police he had gone to Oklahoma City Wednesday for a medical meeting and spent the night at a Norman, Okla., motel, 110 miles northwest of here.

The bodies were cremated hastily less than 24 hours after the fire. After his arrest at Henderson, Tenn., Monday, Galbraith attempted to kill himself by jumping from a car into the path of another.

Two Injured In Fatal Crash 'Fair'

Evelyn Schmitt and William Ellenburger, both of Lincoln, were both reported in "fair condition" at St. Elizabeth's Hospital early Wednesday morning.

Miss Schmitt, 29, of 1309 Court, had earlier been listed as "critical but improved" after suffering injuries along with Ellenburger in a car-truck collision west of Emerald Sunday night that took the lives of two Lincoln women.

Ellenburger, 29, of the Lincoln Air Force Base, the Safety Patrol said, was the driver of the car.

A coroner's jury is awaiting a chance to hear the two before giving a verdict in the inquest of the deaths of two Lincoln women.

Dr. F. E. Sorenson Summer Schools Conference Head

LINCOLN STAR SPECIAL
CHICAGO—Dr. Frank E. Sorenson of the University of Nebraska was elected president of the North Central Conference on summer schools at a meeting here Tuesday.

The conference is allied with the North Central Conference on higher and secondary school education. Dr. Sorenson is director of N. U. summer sessions and chairman of the Department of Educational Services. He has been a member of Nebraska's staff since 1937.

Wage Kickback—Call Girl Miss Dee Testifies

A Cash Date With Jelke's Brother Recruited Her

By ARTHUR EVERETT

NEW YORK (P)—A second call girl testified Tuesday she was recruited into the cafe society vicar of Mickey Jelke after a cash date with his older brother. The agreed kickback, she added, was 30 per cent of her wages of $100.

The girl, red-haired Virginia Dee said she was sent out on a single sex date but that it fell through. She never saw Jelke again until he went to trial the first time two years ago on compulsory prostitution charges.

Miss Dee testified she tried to hide her lurid past after Jelke's 1952 arrest. But she told her story, she claimed, after the district attorney's office warned her "if I didn't talk my child would be taken away from me."

"I didn't know what to do," she added as she wept on the witness stand at Jelke's retrial. Her child was four months old at the time. She is divorced from her husband.

Activities Veiled
At intervals during her brief witness stand appearance for the state, Miss Dee invoked the Fifth Amendment to veil her sex activities since the first trial. In this, she followed the lead of a previous witness, call girl Pat Ward.

Miss Dee testified she met Jelke in the autumn of 1952. Through a telephone answering service, she related, Jelke summoned her to his apartment and introduced her to procurer Ray Russell Davison, sometimes known as Ray Russell.

"I was introduced to Mr. Russell," the shapely vice doll testified. "Mr. Russell asked me if I would like to see some dates—$100 dates—and would I agree to give him 30 per cent of my earnings. And I did. They were to take place at the Warwick Hotel."

Scarlet Career
With the agreement made, Miss Dee continued, Jelke brought Pat Ward in from another room and introduced the two girls. Miss Ward has testified she had already embarked on a scarlet career during which she gave Jelke $10,000 to $15,000 of her profits.

Mickey Jelke, 25, heir to oil-margarine millions, is accused of inducing to prostitution Miss Ward and 25-year-old Marguerite Cordova. His retrial began March 27. He was convicted of the charge in 1953 and given a three to six year prison sentence. However, a new trial was ordered because the courtroom at the first trial was barred to press and public during the state testimony.

Lincoln Leaders Lampooned In Annual University Club's Gridiron Show

Lincoln's civic and business leaders were again the targets of each other's ribbing at the annual University Club Gridiron show Tuesday night.

The theme of the show was travel, with an eye to some of the many places Lincolnites have seen and been seen during the past year.

The 1955 edition of the gridiron show had the usual dash, a generous sprinkling of rib-tickling quips and an audience that was enjoying every minute of the performance.

The skits, filled with usual amount of good-natured digs, lampooned local big-wigs. Special skits depicted the auditorium architects, local bankers, builders, NU officials, and the "poor father" of the bride.

One of the favorites was "The Wranglers," with Chancellor Hardin, Bill Orwig and Coach Jerry Bush portrayed singing a song of their troubles but declaring they were "the three happiest Cornhuskers."

The greeters, traditional well-comers at the event, were dressed in costumes of various places and countries. Morgan Batten was

Pat Ash Might Make Race If Ballot Is Short

City Councilman Pat Ash will neither confirm or deny reports that he is considering a change in his earlier announced intention not to seek re-election.

When asked about reports that he would seek another four-year term, Ash merely stated that he has been contacted about the matter by a number of people. He did not, however, re-affirm his statement of last week that he would not run again.

To all other questions, the councilman had a "no comment."

Only four candidates have filed for the Council. It is believed that one thing which would bring Ash into the race is a lack of a sufficient number of qualified candidates on the ballot.

As the situation now stands, every candidate entered in the primary would automatically be nominated to run in the May 3 general election. If there were not six candidates filed for the primary, any of the six nomination spots left open would be filled in with the winning write-in candidates.

There is also no opposition yet for Mayor Clark Jeary in his bid for another two-year term. This, however, was expected, although the highest write-in candidate for mayor in the primary could accept the nomination to run against Jeary in the general election.

Court Change Bill Introduced

WASHINGTON (P)—Legislation to reduce from eight to three the number of cities in which Federal Court is held in Nebraska was introduced Tuesday by Rep. Chase (R-Neb.).

It would limit court sessions to Omaha, Lincoln and North Platte. Sessions at Norfolk, Grand Island, Hastings, Chadron and McCook would be eliminated.

66 Perish In Fiery Air Crash

HONOLULU (P)—A Navy transport plane crashed into a mountain top Tuesday and exploded with a roar "like a thunderclap," killing all 66 persons aboard.

It was the most disastrous air-plane accident in Hawaii's history and one of the worst in aviation records.

Victims included a woman, her child and 64 service men, including the 9-man Navy crew, 17 Air Force passengers, 22 Army men, 12 Marines and 4 Navy men.

No Nebraska names were listed among the dead.

The R6D four-engine transport was ferrying the passengers—including a serviceman with his wife and 3-year-old daughter—from Tokyo to California.

It Turned Back

It had turned back toward Hickam Field at Honolulu on the last leg of the trans-Pacific flight because of trouble.

Eight miles off course and in a heavy rainstorm the big plane plowed into Pali Kea Peak, about 15 miles northwest of Honolulu.

The pilot turned on his landing lights just before the crash, witnesses said. He apparently saw the mountain looming up in front and tried to bank away. It was too late.

The plane hit the bare face of the mountain 200 feet from the top, and exploded.

Bankrupt Petition By Cafe Operator Lists $16,379 Debts

A petition in bankruptcy has been filed in Federal Court by Glenn E. Robertson, 1339 So. 19, operator of the Sportsman Cafe, 1601 O.

Robertson lists a total of $16,379 in debts, of which $10,553 are secured and $5,826 unsecured.

The Sportsman Cafe has been attached by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service for unpaid withholding and social security taxes. Robertson alleges in his petition that most of the restaurant equipment has been sold by the Internal Revenue Service.

Robertson lists $9,600 due to Wayne E. Rowe of Bellevue, a secured debt, plus $1,718 owed to the same person for rent. Also included among debts are $120 owed as wages to Lincoln people, $200 owed in social security and withholding taxes, and $100 owed the Nebraska Unemployment Compensation Fund.

Claimed as exempt by Robertson is a $50 equity in household furniture.

Robertson states in his petition that he operated the Sportsman Cafe from July 1, 1952, to Feb. 24, 1955.

Beer Law Amendment Sent To Floor

A bill to amend a present law on remonstrance against beer licenses was sent to general file Tuesday by the Legislature's public health committee.

The measure, LB 161, would require that the 51 per cent signatures be based on the last state general election. This basis was used from 1941 until a year and a half ago when the courts held it could be the last general city election.

Charles Hoyer, representing the Nebraska beer industry told the committee that by the petition method beer licenses had been cancelled in Holdrege and Republican City although the licensees could continue to sell liquor. A vote of the people reinstated the licenses, he said.

'Minority Power' Cited

"I want to make it clear it is not the purpose of the industry to force the product on any community," he said. "But as in non-contested local elections with small votes, we do not think a minority of the citizens should be given such power."

A. A. Whitworth of the U. S. Brewers Foundation explained how the law worked for 11 years. He said that a remonstrance petition forces city officials to close all beer retailers for the balance of license year.

Albert S. Johnson, Lincoln attorney, who said he also represented the Temperance League of Nebraska, opposed the change. He argued that it would cause confusion and be difficult to administer because of the necessity of getting election figures from the county seat. He suggested increasing the percentage of voters required on petitions.

'BEEF STATE' TAGS MOVE STEP CLOSER

Nebraska moved another step closer to having the words "the beef state" placed on its license plates after an attempt to amend the measure failed in the Legislature Tuesday.

Sen. Hubka of Beatrice moved that the "beef state" bill, LB 293, be returned to general file for an amendment that would limit its scope to 1956 and 1957.

However, the Hubka motion was defeated 6 to 26 and the bill then advanced to final reading by a voice vote.

Hubka urged the adoption of his amendment in order to provide a trial period for the worth of the idea. The Beatrice legislator was sponsor of a bill to place "the homestead state" on license plates, but the measure was killed in committee.

Sen. Lee of Fremont supported the Hubka move on the grounds that Nebraska has a balanced agricultural economy without emphasis on any commodity.

A plea for a brief debate on the matter was made by Sen. Donald McGinley of Ogallala, author of the "beef state" plan. The Unicameral discussed the idea at length last week.

"I think that any lengthy debate on this matter would bring the Legislature under criticism because of the attention it's going to get in the newspapers," said McGinley.

Rural Funds For Red Cross Exceed Quota

Lancaster County Red Cross wound up its 1955 Rural Fund campaign with all 47 precincts and townships reporting a total of $4,513 collected Tuesday night.

The needs for this year's drive were $4,500 according to Richard Lefferdink of Hickman, chairman. Lefferdink and Albert Francke of Walton, co-chairman, said at the report meeting at Scottish Rite Temple they were very pleased with the success of this year's drive and urged any solicitors not reporting for their complete area, to finish this week.

Approximately 300 campaign workers attended the rally. Each precinct and township captain reported on his area. Vice chairmen for quarters of the county were Glen Marolf, Greenwood; Louis Deinert, Route 6; Frank Wells, Martell; and Jim Doolittle, Rocca.

The State Railway Commission Tuesday granted the City of Lincoln permission to build four miles of electric transmission line in Saunders and Cass Counties.

Governor Signs Salary Measure

Gov. Anderson has signed into law a bill raising the salary of Deputy Secretary of State Roland Luedtke from $4,200 to $5,400.

An emergency measure, it takes effect immediately.

Eight bills were approved by the governor. The list:

LB 19, increasing salary of deputy secretary of state from $4,200 to $5,400.

LB 220, increasing radius within which motor carrier otherwise qualifying to pay an excise tax in lieu of an excise tax may operate.

LB 401, amending statutes relating to judicial bonds to provide that no bond for injunction be required for the state or any of its agents in certain actions.

LB 256, changing requirements of reports furnished by common carriers of motor vehicle fuels.

LB 275, providing for an estate tax on the transfer of property from resident decedents to others.

LB 151, eliminating fur commission's salary in counties under 200,000 population.

LB 5, extending time for filing claims for aircraft gasoline tax refund.

SEC Men Don't Believe 'Rigging' A Factor In Stock Price Boom

No Increase In Violations, —Demmler

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two members of the Securities and Exchange Commission said Tuesday they do not believe market rigging or other illegal practices have been a factor in the stock price boom.

SEC Chairman Ralph H. Demmler and Commissioner Paul R. Rowen said they knew of no increase in stock manipulation or other violations of security laws since the bull market got under way 18 months ago.

They testified at the Senate Banking Committee's inquiry into the market.

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.), who put the questions which brought these answers, beamed his approval. In a running feud with Chairman Fulbright (D-Ark.), Capehart has contended the committee inquiry is a waste of time unless it turns up illegal activity.

No Clash

Fulbright and Capehart got through Tuesday's session without any new clash, but Capehart's questions and comments underlined their sharp differences. So did some of Fulbright's.

Capehart says the inquiry is designed to harass the Eisenhower administration and business. Fulbright denies any partisan motive, and says the Republicans, including the administration, injected politics into it.

Demmler said in his prepared testimony that the SEC's role as "an alert policeman on the beat" had been a deterrent to manipulation and other illegal practices.

Public Interest

In addition to making Capehart happy, Demmler had some words which pleased Fulbright, too.

Fulbright, who has been accused by Capehart of asking questions far removed from the stock market, asked whether Demmler thought "an inquiry into the economy of the country might be in the public interest."

"Yes," replied Demmler.

Demmler made no recommendations for new legislation, and said the commission he heads was less concerned "about broadcasters who have enticed people into the market" than members of the committee appeared to be.

Defense Post Is Taken Over By L. Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lorne Kennedy, formerly a newspaperman in Nebraska, Iowa and Oklahoma, was sworn in Tuesday as deputy assistant secretary of defense for legislative affairs.

He will serve directly under Asst. Defense Secretary Robert T. Ross who took office on March 15. Kennedy came to Washington in 1944 as chief of the Omaha World-Herald bureau here.

Two years later he became administrative assistant to the late Sen. Wherry of Nebraska. After Wherry's death in 1951, Kennedy served in the same capacity with other Nebraska senators.

Born in Council Bluffs, Iowa, in 1907, Kennedy worked on newspapers in his home town, in Sioux City and Omaha before joining the Associated Press in 1935. In two years with the AP, Kennedy served in Des Moines and Oklahoma City.

Later he joined the Bee-News and the Omaha World-Herald. Since last September, he has served as executive assistant to the assistant secretaries of defense for legislative and public affairs.

Ohio GOP Chief To Make Speech At Founders Day

Ray C. Bliss, Republican state chairman of Ohio, will be featured speaker at the Founders Day meeting of Republican county officials Monday in Omaha.

The announcement was made by William W. Spear of Fremont, Republican state chairman.

Spear said Bliss was one of the outstanding state chairmen in the United States. Bliss, he said, is credited with spearheading the victory of the late Robert A. Taft in the 1950 Ohio Senatorial race.

Bliss will discuss some of the problems confronting a political organization in a highly-industrialized state such as Ohio.

The meeting for Republican county chairmen, vice chairmen and state central committee members will be held at 3:30 p.m. Monday at the new Omaha City Auditorium.

Sharp Jolt Recorded

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—A severe, but distant, earthquake was recorded on the California Institute of Technology seismograph at 6:24:40 a.m. Tuesday. The exact location of the quake was not immediately determined but officials thought it was in the area of the Indian Ocean.

Mintun Found Guilty Of Manslaughter

land, 22-year-old waitress, "unintentionally and without malice."

Scheele said the defense didn't explain the actions of Mintun, who told the others to "mind their own business," traveled an erratic route in his car to elude McNeil who was following, changed his bloody shirt at his apartment, but yet failed to call a doctor or take the injured woman to nearby St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Defense Tries Quash

Mintun's attorney moved to quash the manslaughter charge after the state rested its evidence Tuesday morning.

Holland contended the state presented no evidence that Mrs. Holland was pushed from the porch. "It's just as speculative that she fell from the porch and such evidence shouldn't be allowed to go to the jury," he said.

Judge Paul White said he thought the state's evidence was sufficient to allow its case to go to the jury.

Mintun then took the stand in his own defense during which time he emphatically stated he "never hit, kicked or touched" Mrs. Holland during the entire evening.

He said he "couldn't remember" quarreling with the waitress.

Mintun said he tried to get her to go home between 2 and 2:30 a.m., but she hadn't wanted to go. "There was no argument," he said. "She had to go to work at six o'clock."

The defendant testified Mrs. Holland went through the back door by herself and the next thing he remembered was seeing her lying on the sidewalk. "I thought she had passed out,"

Mintun said. "I put her in the back seat of my car." Mintun then drove the car to their apartment house at 502 So. 12th and "tried to get her awake," he said.

When he couldn't, he said he fell asleep himself, awakening about 5 or 5:30.

Called For Help

Mintun said he called Mrs. McNeil several times for help to get Mrs. Hovland into the apartment before driving back to the McNeils' home.

Mintun said that he, Mrs. McNeil, and her brother-in-law and sister "tried to find" Mrs. Hovland's pulse before the police were called. (Mrs. Hovland was found to be dead by police when they arrived.)

He said he didn't know how the back door got broken until Mrs. McNeil told him that Mrs. Hovland's arm had gone through the glass.

Earlier, Mrs. McNeil testified that "Bud (Mintun) pushed Regina through the dining room and kitchen. She had her arms up. He pushed her through the door. Her hand went through the glass."

Mrs. McNeil said she had then turned her back and didn't see anything after that point until she saw Mrs. Hovland lying on the sidewalk at the bottom of the porch steps. Mrs. McNeil said Mrs. Hovland, while Mintun was trying to raise her up, kept saying she didn't want to go home. "Mintun told me to back into the house and mind my own business," she said.

When Mintun brought Mrs. Hovland back to the McNeil home, Mrs. McNeil said she tried to wake her up, but found "her head was bloody."

On cross-examination of his testimony in relation to Mrs. McNeil's, Mintun maintained he had not touched Mrs. Hovland the entire evening.

He testified that he and Mrs. Hovland had been living together as man and wife for "about a month" before her death Nov. 12. "Regina was down on her luck when I met her," Mintun said in describing how he gave her some money to pay off her back rent and buy some clothes in order to get a job as a waitress.

Minun said he understood Mrs. Hovland was married, but had been divorced. He met her in a Lincoln tavern, he said.

Mrs. Lois Mintun of 1020 G took the stand in her husband's behalf. She indicated that since the Nov. 13 incident she has been living with her husband, who continued as a painter at the Lincoln Air Base.

Knowledge And Consent

Some years hence and millions of words later, we indulge ourselves in the hope that the fires kindled by release of the Yalta papers will have subsided sufficiently to enable people to see through the smoke.

There was an unbelievable development on the floor of the Senate Tuesday. There, Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas, shouting, charged that the Yalta papers were made public "under circumstances which strongly suggest official collusion." Then he added there were indications the papers had been "carefully culled" beforehand "for ammunition to be used not against Communists but against" the Democratic party.

We would like to believe Sen. Johnson is just 100 per cent wrong. If there is even a tissue of truth to his charge, then whoever was responsible has been playing around at least several feet under the basement of politics. That was bad enough, but just ahead of Johnson, California's Republican Sen. Knowland said the papers were distributed "without the knowledge and consent of the President."

Can that be true?

Does the Republican floor leader want the American people to understand that matters of the importance of the release of the Yalta papers are decided by a member of the President's official family, without discussion with the President, the more especially since a week earlier the press had quoted Secretary of State Dulles as saying that "their publication would adversely affect our security and our relations with our allies."

The best way to insure criticism of President Eisenhower is to continue this game of "now you see it, and now you don't" which seems too popular in Washington today. Whether it was a mistake to release the Yalta papers or not, we would like to believe that the President of the United States had been consulted in the matter. We would like to think that whatever takes place in Washington of such importance does not transpire without his knowledge or consent.

That Fishin' Fever

Fellow Editor F. V. Turney has taken us a bit to task, and quite justifiably so. We were rambling on about spring and such, the green-tinted evidence of which is beginning to show up here and there about the state, and we were guilty of the rather prissy observation that the Wakefield Republican was mixing metaphors along with a toad of sulphur and molasses, when it declared that any good red fishing blood tingling through the veins these days must be bringing on itchy feet.

To which Travler Turney, laying aside the old rod and reel on which he'd been putting a high polish, and taking up the cudgel in the form of his typewriter, replied stoutly and with just a hint of indignation:

"Whether The Lincoln Star liked our description of people having the fishing fever or not, I am quite sure that those who read our paper each week knew what we were talking about."

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Years of activity in public life gained for Clyde T. Ellis, general manager of the National Rural Electric Co-operative Association, an organization which claims to speak for 3 1/2 million rural power consumers, a reputation for anything but explosiveness. Day in and out, Mr. Ellis has demonstrated that it is not his habit to fly off half-cocked. To the contrary, in the spirit of deep devotion to America's rural electric patrons, he has carried on his work in a spirit of moderation and understanding. There was a reason. The electric patrons Mr. Ellis represents are people of all political faiths. His organization includes hundreds of thousands of Republicans and Democrats.

Mr. Ellis is mad, obviously, from the tip of his head to his toes. In a letter to 435 members of the House and the 96 members of the Senate, the National Rural Electric Co-operative Association urges the law-makers to abolish the Hoover Commission on governmental reorganization, with a special critical shaft directed at its head, former President Herbert Hoover. This is the result of the commission's recommendation to Congress that the Rural Electrification Administration be required to raise its funds in the future from private sources. At best, the commission's recommendation is a strange one—strange in light of the fact that the majority of the rural electrification districts in America are repaying their loans to Uncle Sam well in advance of maturity—repaying the loans ahead of schedule. It is a strange recommendation in view of the fact that Uncle Sam never took a hand in bringing lights to the American farm until after years of neglect by the private utilities in developing the field. Now that the job is well along towards completion—more than 80 per cent of the American farms are electrified, and the average is higher here in Nebraska—the Hoover Commission would require REA to look to private sources not only for future financing but for refinancing, we assume, with REA's ultimate dissolution.

The letter of the National Rural Electric Co-operative Association accuses the 12-man commission of joining with "the power lobby" and "Wall Street bankers" in an attempt to destroy the 21-year-old government program for bringing electricity to American farms. This report it adds, "shows clearly what we have suspected from the beginning, that Mr. Hoover, repudiated by the American people in an overwhelming election defeat, has returned . . . to carry out his earlier aims of serving the vested interests against the common people."

It may be the part of wisdom to cool off slightly, although it is granted that rural electric patrons, including thousands in Nebraska, have a truly vital concern in this new controversy. Mr. Hoover is not a public power man, the basis of rural electric development. Over the years he has shown an unrelenting, continuing hostility to the REA program as presently functioning. It would appear that he has no objection to hydro-electric developments if the electricity so produced is turned over to the private utilities to reap the profits from its distribution. He, it has been said, is the real power behind the Eisenhower doctrine of a partnership between Uncle Sam, the states and the local communities. What few people sensed in this new authorization to the Hoover Commission was that the continued study was broadened to confer upon the commission the right to outline functions of government. It was not merely to deal with obsolete, overlapping, or duplicating agencies. It was to draw a pattern for American life in the future. The affection, the admiration, the kindness which the American people have extended to Mr. Hoover could not in any way be interpreted as a commission to him and his associates to restore his conceptions of government.

Nebraska has an interest in this. All of its rural districts have been financed through loans from REA. They are good loans. They will be repaid. But in arranging for finance, Nebraska's rural districts did not look to private sources. Their contracts were made with Uncle Sam on the basis of what appeared to be a reasonable, acceptable rate of interest.

They took exception to the way the item was worded concerning those having the fishing blood in their veins and getting itchy feet. Well, no doubt, the fellow in Lincoln who read the item doesn't know what it is to have fishing fever. Or else he was trying to let us know that he knew all about sentence construction and the use of adjectives, even to metaphors. . . . Sure, we knew that the sentence wasn't constructed exactly right, but what of it? You readers knew what we meant. When a guy has fishing fever, those things happen right along. . . . Such is life."

Guilty on the first count, Prother Turney—but the second will get you a denial and a stout argumentative defense. We're as susceptible as the next angler to that first-warm-day, far-away-look-in-the-eye fever that manifests itself further in a vague yearning for a grassy slope and a stream where the big ones lurk. Nothing, in our book, has even begun to approach the relaxation and peace of mind to be found under an old hat pulled low over the eyes while the hum of a bee or the soft sigh of a summer breeze are all the conversation a fellow needs or wants. And then, evening, and fresh bull-heads browning to crisp golden doneness in the skillet, and served up with baking powder biscuits. . . . don't tell us we don't know what it is to run up a temperature with fishing fever. . . . Maybe today we could just tiptoe away from this desk and that pile of work and those confounded telephones. . . .

And then again, maybe we couldn't. . . . Such is life!

Proved A Point

Just a week ago Treasury Secretary Humphrey with a fresh recollection of a falling stock market chided the Fulbright committee for its senatorial inquiry. He admonished that such a probing might "contribute to a questioning of confidence."

The secretary's remarks might have had convincing effect were it not for the fact that almost while he was uttering his dark warning, the market staged one of its strongest advances in the past 15 years.

Embarrassing as it might be to a man in high place to have a market blithely wash out his words, the answer to it all was better. A rallying market gave a wholesome reply that it was able to do business, investigation or no investigation. And the country can safely conclude that the confidence of America is not going to be shaken when the Senate embarks on an honest examination of the market or anything else—not nearly as it would be if investigation and criticism were outlawed.

Too Much Delay

State Director of Health E. A. Rogers has run into a block in making Salk vaccine for polio immunization available to thousands of outstate children. The block is occurring in offices of county superintendents of schools many of whom have been neglecting to inform the state health department of their area's needs.

Warned Dr. Rogers, "If we cannot soon find out how many first and second grade children there are to be taken care of there will be a lot of vaccine remaining in Lincoln."

Polio immunization is not a routine matter to be given light-hearted treatment by county superintendents. It involves prevention of a dread ailment and is the right of the children if they wish it. The lagard county superintendents will look better in the eyes of Nebraska if they put the state health director's request on the immediate priority list.

One Up On Us

Kansas auto license plates advertise the wheat state, those of New York the Empire state, Florida the sunshine state and Nebraska is on the verge of becoming known as the beef state.

But there is always someone out in front with a new idea. Minnesota, for instance, is working on a reflectorized license plate—a plate coated with a substance that claims to be 100 times brighter than white paint and glows like everything at night.

Yalta Fallout Being Felt Here And Abroad

WASHINGTON — YALTA FALL-OUT — The fallout from the Yalta explosion is like the hydrogen bomb. Its devastating diplomatic effect continues long after the original blast. . . . Today the French Senate votes on ratification of the German Arms Agreement, which Dulles for two years has made the cornerstone of his European policy. He took four trips to Europe to urge, threaten, cajole French participation. Yet just six days prior to French Senate debate on ratification he released a document quoting Winston Churchill as saying:

"No solution has been found for controlling the French while they are controlling the Germans. If the French wish to be tireless they could produce trouble in their zone which would cause trouble in the other zones. If we decide to be strict they could be lenient. If we decide to be lenient they could be strict." . . . French diplomats working for ratification of the German arms agreement were dumfounded, the French press furious. . . . before the State Department released the Yalta explosion stenographers hastily crossed out certain passages with pencils. However, French newsmen could see right through the penciled censorship, including the Churchill quote: "I do feel that if the French are given this little sop it will keep them quietly, for I feel strongly that they should not be at this table. This is an exclusive group (smiling) and the entrance subscription is at least five million soldiers." . . . Naturally this was headlined in Paris.

Yalta'd British — What flabbergasted the British was that the secretary of state himself should leak the documents. They knew, as the entire press and diplomatic corps now knows, that it was none other than John Foster Dulles who authorized that two huge volumes be planted with the New York Times, a technique calculated to satisfy right-wing Republicans yet let Dulles tell the British he was against publication. . . . "If that happened in England," remarked one British diplomat, "Eden would face questions in Commons next morning and might have to resign." . . . One Yalta line that especially irked the British was the Churchill quote: "It would be a pity to stuff the Polish goose so full of German food that it would have indigestion."

Yalta Wiscracks — With the weight of the war on their shoulders the old gentlemen at Yalta were full of wisecracks, which is one reason Sen. Knowland demanded publication. However, Churchill and Roosevelt always wisecracked, war or no war. . . . Here are some Yalta-cracks. . . . Churchill: "We are pursuing the Atlantic charter. I sent a copy of this interpretation to Wendell Willkie." Roosevelt: "Is that what killed him?" . . . Roosevelt "recalled there had been an organization called the Ku Klux Klan that had hated the Catholics and Jews, and when he had been on a visit to a small town in the South he had been the guest of the president of the local Chamber of Commerce. He had sat next to an Italian on one side and a Jew on the other and had asked the president of the Chamber of Commerce whether they were members of the Ku Klux Klan, to which the president replied that they were, but that they were considered all right since everyone in the community knew them. The President remarked that it was a good illustration of how difficult it was to have any prejudice—racial, religious or otherwise—if you really knew people." . . . Roosevelt told this in supporting a Churchill toast for peaceful cooperation with Russia "that the common danger of war had removed the impediments to understanding and the fires of war had wiped out old animosities."

Dumb Democrats — The Democratic National Committee was either too dumb or too busy playing bridge or unable to read. For the Yalta papers contained good political ammunition. . . . GOP mouthpieces, including David Lawrence's U. S. News, also Newsweek, had leaked the story that Joe Lash, onetime friend of Mrs. Roosevelt and former member of a Communist-front youth group, was to be a U. S. delegate to the United Nations. It now develops that Ed Stettinius, then secretary of state, didn't know how to spell "Lausche," the name of the governor of Ohio, and anything but a Communist. . . . Stettinius also listed Harold Stassen to be a delegate. . . . The Yalta papers also show that the chief sponsor for Alger Hiss was Stettinius, former head of U. S. Steel and former vice president of General Motors, a company not without influence in the Eisenhower cabinet. . . . Stettinius was brought into the Roosevelt administration as a wartime gesture of cooperation with big business. . . . Though Sen. Knowland cited the Yalta papers as evidence FDR wanted Alger Hiss to go to Yalta, careful reading shows just the opposite. Here is a memo from Stettinius' diary written when the Yalta conference was being organized: "The secretary (Stettinius) told Mr. Harry Hopkins that the purpose of his 12:30 appointment with the president was to 'bring with him people who will be involved in the forthcoming conferences.' The President, Mr. Stettinius explained, did not want anyone to accompany him in an advisory capacity, but he (Stettinius) felt Messrs. Bowman and Alger Hiss ought to go. Hopkins promised to discuss the matter with the President that afternoon."

Yalta Hissing — One document in the Yalta record which neither McCarthy nor Nixon is likely to quote is a memo the State Department attributed to Hiss showing he opposed giving two extra votes to Russia in the United Nations. . . . When Stalin wanted the Ukraine and White Russia to get extra votes, Hiss wrote this argument to help his superiors: "On further thought we have become impressed with the Soviet view that the initial members of the United Nations organization should be the signatories of the United Nations declaration. As none of the Soviet republics are signatories of that declaration, Mr. Molotov's proposal that two or three of these republics be admitted to additional membership would be contrary to that principle."

Secretary of State Dulles has been trying to persuade our allies to draw a line in India-China and warn the Communists that any aggression across the line will mean — war. This was his idea regarding Formosa, which Congress ok'd. But our allies in the Far East are not so cooperative as Congress.

DORIS FLEESON

Stock Market Quiz Lacking Definition

WASHINGTON — Sen. Homer Capehart's adventures in McCarthyism have enlivened the stock market inquiry but they are a side issue. The main trouble with the inquiry is that, like Capehart, it has been dealing with everything but the problems of the market.

There has been no dearth of intelligent and co-operative witnesses. In the main they have proved excellent spokesmen for their own enterprises. Any relation to the over all problem of public policy with relation to the market has been purely coincidental.

Chairman William Fulbright must take responsibility for the failure of the inquiry to develop a clear and recognizable stock market story. In his anxiety to be fair and friendly he is ending up with a formless, faceless investigation whose most memorable passage may be the extraneous matters introduced by Capehart.

Fulbright's good intentions have not proved a substitute for a firm sense of direction. And he is actually so little a bitter partisan that he has failed to exploit Capehart's bumbling and the apparent Republican fear of any suggestion that everything is not for the best in this best of all possible worlds.

One possibility remains for a biting excursion into current economic phenomena. B. M. Baruch will testify Wednesday. Baruch may not be as wise as his friends think he is but his fellow-speculators in the stock market declare that there he has never made a single mistake. The market made him a millionaire at 30 and it has never let him down.

The one witness who undertook to inject a tentative dose of pessimism into current thinking about the market is Capehart's target, Harvard Economist John Kenneth Galbraith. A Harvard professor has long been a fair, if not indeed favorite, target of congressional inquisitors but Galbraith was so patently well-informed and well-balanced, it seemed for awhile that his views would be given great importance.

Since then, however, Capehart has discovered what he professes to see as pro-Communist bias in a pamphlet Galbraith wrote in 1949 for the National Planning Association. Among the association's prominent supporters is Milton Eisenhower, the President's brother. McCarthy, incidentally, assailed Milton Eisenhower last week in a Senate speech, but just couldn't creep forward of the want ads with it.

Capehart has also discovered that Galbraith has written a book on the 1929 crash which in the Capehart view disqualifies him.

Republican National Chairman Leonard Hall preceded Capehart with a "Red bias" attack on Galbraith. All this is the essence of McCarthyism. It would appear that the administration which boasts of turning its back on the old master is still willing to play his tunes.

Galbraith is a sophisticated anti-Communist who is capable of defending himself and will shortly do so in the forum in which he has been attacked. He has admitted to receiving a good many "drop dead" postcards from happy investors in the bull market and he has in part obliged by breaking his leg. His experience with the investors parallels that of members of the Senate committee. Their mail indicates that a certain euphoria prevails with respect to the market and that the public shows few signs of wanting to stop, look and listen.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Nations Want Parley With Russia

WASHINGTON—Whether American policy-makers want it or not, the pressure for a high-level conference with Soviet Russia has become irresistible. Internal political demands in Great Britain, France and Germany make agreement to hold such a conference essential to the future of the Western Alliance.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles would greatly prefer not to see such a conference held since he has no reason to believe that the Russians are any more ready to negotiate realistically on such long-stalled issues as the Austrian peace treaty than they were a year ago. But he cannot, publicly at least, say so.

While the split in the British Labor party has greatly enhanced the chances of a conservative victory in an election to be held this year rather than next, the Conservatives must satisfy the British public of their willingness to meet for a discussion of the tensions that threaten war. The growing conviction is that Winston Churchill shall step down prior to a general election, to be held some believe as early as June and certainly by October, in favor of Anthony Eden. Prior to going before his country, Eden as prime minister will want to be able to give an assurance that the west has agreed to a conference.

A somewhat similar situation exists in France. The government of Premier Edgar Faure has pledged a meeting with the Communists at the very first opportunity after the Western European Agreement is finally ratified. The shaky Faure government must produce something tangible in the way of a proposal, and perhaps even a specific date if it is to remain in power.

The situation in Germany is not quite so urgent but there, too, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has strained his prestige and popularity to the utmost in getting parliamentary approval of the accords that give Germany a national army in the western coalition. Adenauer also promised a meeting with the Russians as soon as the process of ratification had been completed. In his speeches just before the upper chamber approved the accords, Adenauer intimated that a conference could be held prior to the rearming of Germany, which might remove the need for bringing any sizable number of divisions into being.

Behind these mounting pressures is the widespread fear of a nuclear war that would destroy Western Europe. This is so deep-seated that no politician can stand out against any means, however frail and uncertain, that holds out hope of peace.

There can be no assurance that Soviet Russia would be willing, after ratification of the accords so fiercely opposed by the Communists, to take part in a conference with the West. The main objective of Soviet foreign policy for the past two years has been to block the steps that would legalize a west German army. Many Russian specialists believe that this reflects a genuine fear of a revival of German militarism. It is scarcely necessary to add that this fear has its propaganda advantages in a Europe trembling at the mere suggestion of another war.

Against the background of the insistent demand for another meeting with the Russians the harm done by the release of the Yalta papers at this particular moment becomes more evident. The Soviet newspaper Pravda charges that this was done with the deliberate intention of discrediting big-power negotiations.

The Republican senators who were largely responsible for getting Dulles to release the papers at this point seem determined to prove Pravda's accusation. Sen. William Knowland of California, minority leader in the Senate, is saying in effect that the Yalta documents prove that secret negotiations must inevitably result in duplicity, if not a "sell-out." Those documents certainly show plenty of duplicity of a melancholy, war-weary sort. But the whole history of diplomacy is proof that if there is to be effective negotiation at some stage these negotiations must be secret.

These same Republican critics were largely responsible for the fact that Dulles could not participate in any meaningful way in the Indo-China conference held last year at Geneva. He had no bargaining position nor any opportunity to use his great skills as a negotiator. He left at the end of a week, as he had earlier pledged himself to do, despite the pleading of Eden who felt that his presence was necessary if the Communists were not to sweep everything before them.

Dulles would hardly enter another conference under such a handicap. Yet, he still has a major problem with respect to his own party here at home. And by yielding to the pressures to release the Yalta papers so that they could be warmed up for the 1956 campaign, he has greatly complicated his problem.

Assistance Action

Brook, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Wal, ah shore do wanta congratulate Sen. Aufenkamp (alias Sen. Foghorn) for his courageous and contortionist feat in straddlin' the fence and bein' the one and only state senator without nuff nerve to vote either fur or agin' givin' old age assistance $2 more a month. Yup, by golly, thet thar feat orta be recorded in the annals of history right alongside of Barnum and Bailey.

Tecumseh, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Commenting on Mr. George Marshall's attack on the Legislature for not allowing the $2 for the aged, I think he is laying it on a little thick. Why doesn't he go to the local county welfare director? Who are these aged who are neglected? Certainly not in Johnson County.

Mr. Cecil Matthews thinks the welfare population is strong enough to elect the Legislature. Our senator (Kotouc) is back again this term, and he has never voted their way. Anyone drawing social security (without state assistance) has to pay his own doctor and medicine bills.

Mr. Marshall also complains because the Legislature voted a raise in wages to the Supreme Court judges, assistant deputy attorney general, etc. After all, they are doing a job and anyone gets paid for labor.

HANNAH MCNERNEY

Omaha, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The action of the present state Legislature killing a recommendation that recipients of old age assistance be granted an increase of $2 per month must surely touch the depth of our state's degradation. Can anything else ever, past, present, or future, bring a deeper red to the faces of those of us who love our state?

I hesitate to try to express the sorrow, pity and deep humiliation the news of this action has brought to me. George Marshall of River-ton has said it so much better than I can in these Star columns. For I, too, was born here in 1878 on a Nebraska homestead and have lived here so many years (over 50). I know so many wonderful, courageous, industrious, frugal citizens of Nebraska who must have cried out in their anguish and disillusionment when this blow fell on their white heads.

True, two dollars a month for living purposes isn't much. But when that was withheld so calmly and so coldly, it is no wonder that the tears of hopelessness must have flowed from the dim eyes of many weary Nebraska old-timers.

Can it be possible that we are so absorbed in our own lives and ways of living that we can't take a few minutes to write our legislators about our deep shame and chagrin at their callous indifference to the misery of these who were our "first" citizens when the road was so rough, but who stayed on with such magnificent courage, only to find in their few remaining years that the heart of Nebraska is not as they have always believed, full of kindness and compassion but has become instead a piece of flint rock?

For one, I must believe that Nebraska citizens if they had the chance to speak would show their great neighborly spirit by voting this shameful page from the history of our grand state.

GEORGE PHIPPS

Omaha, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Surely the recent article in The Star by Mr. Marshall is important to his fellow Nebraskans, as have been all like efforts in his long, worthy life. Such courageous devotion to the basic welfare of the less favored segments is hard to find, even in the fair state in which we live.

Now we should rally to the cause he so pointedly poses for us—full consideration of the needs and hopes of the aged and helpless. If we would only take advantage of the opportunity which the non-partisan nature of our state senate offers us. If we would only take the hint given some years ago by the venerable George Norris, and elect men who are substantially free from the prevailing abstract Republican theory, men who more often are guided by compassion, men who are really sons of all the people and not tied to obligations from the past and to career-cautions for the future. The people will have to seek for such men and encourage them to run for office. It is hopeful that Nebraska has such men by the hundreds.

It may be too late to retrieve that bill for the mere $2 increase in welfare for everyone's kin, the aged. But it is not too late to urge that we all begin to roll up a mighty spontaneous surge of public will to elect men who are not, at critical passes, bound to Republican theory. It's not too late to display more of that oft mentioned but slightly deeded "good will to men."

State School Transport Aid Bill Held

A proposal to give qualified districts state aid for transportation of school pupils remained in the Legislature's Education Committee Tuesday following a sparsely attended public hearing.

Dr. Archer Burnham, speaking for the State Education Association, said every state adjoining Nebraska provides state aid for transportation of school pupils.

He predicted it might cost Nebraska $1,500,000 a year, but pointed out it should "provide a method of aiding and abetting re-organization of school districts."

24 Sections
The bill proposes such aid for any district containing an area equal to 24 or more sections of land with transportation to be furnished to elementary pupils outside the boundaries of an incorporated municipality and living more than a mile from the school.

Dr. Burnham asserted it was "not an attempt to put something over."

Supt. K. R. Mitchell of Allen, Neb., and Supt. Kenneth Willis of Franklin spoke for the bill.

The only one appearing to oppose the bill was R. M. Armstrong of the Nebraska Citizens Council, who urged it be held to see what happens to other proposed school legislation.

LB 522
The committee reported out LB

522, setting up membership conditions for the permanent, appointive Board of Educational Lands and Funds set up under a constitutional amendment approved last year.

The board is to have five members—one from each congressional district and one at large. They will serve five-year terms, meet at least

Committee Studies Bill Permitting Game Commission Revenue Bonds

The Legislature's Banking Committee Tuesday took under advisement a bill that would permit the State Game Commission to issue revenue bonds for construction purposes.

The measure, LB 523, was held for possible amendments.

Earlier in the current session, Sen. Monroe Bixler of Harrison introduced a bill to permit the commission to use bonds for the possible construction of cabins at Chadron State Park.

Follow Suggestions
Patrick Rensch, attorney for an Omaha bonding firm, told the Banking Committee at that time that the provisions of the bill would make it a bad risk for investment bankers.

LB 523, giving the commission the power to issue revenue bonds for any type of revenue producing construction, was introduced by Sen. Bixler along the lines suggested by Rensch.

Rensch told the committee Tuesday that the amount of the commission's bonds would be "limited to what they can borrow on a business basis on what they're going to construct."

Sen. John Beaver of Beemer, a member of the committee, asked if the bill meant that Game Commission property might be mortgaged, a situation prohibited by the state constitution.

Operate Cabins
Rensch replied that it wouldn't be added that the investment bankers could take over operation of cabins or restaurants in the state parks if the revenue for their construction proved insufficient.

Game Commission Secretary Paul Gilbert objected to a portion of the bill that would establish revenue from other parks and from fish and game permits as a backstop for the bonds.

State Engineer L. N. Rens said he didn't like a provision that the Highway Department would build and maintain roads in state parks as specified by the Game Commission. He objected to putting his department under the jurisdiction of another branch of state government.

Chambers Phone Rate Hike Okayed
The State Railway Commission Tuesday granted the Chambers Independent Telephone Co. permission to increase rates at Chambers, effective April 1.

The increases range from 30 to 50 cents, depending upon the class of service.

Rural subscribers testified at a hearing last month that falling farm prices should not be accompanied by an increase in telephone rates.

The commission also gave the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. authority to discontinue special long distance rates at Lexington and Elwood when those two exchanges are converted to dial service.

Brownell Main Stock Men's Meet Speaker

U.S. Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. will visit Lincoln June 10 to be guest and main speaker during the three-day 66th annual convention of the Nebraska Stock Growers Association here.

This was announced Tuesday by Glenn Buck of Wood Lake and Lincoln and Sen. Don McGinley, Ogallala, co-chairmen of the convention.

An estimated 1,000 stock raisers will attend sessions opening at the Cornhusker Hotel June 9.

Brownell's address will be open to the public and is scheduled for 2:30 p.m.

Other convention speakers include, Jay Taylor, Amarillo, Tex., Cattlemen's Association; Harry Coffey, Omaha, president of the Union Stockyards; Chancellor Clifford Hardin, University of Nebraska; Carl Neumann, Chicago, general manager of the National Livestock and Meat Board; and Tom Collins, Kansas City, principal banquet speaker.

Goodwill Employs Two Handicapped Under New Grant

A $2,000 grant received by the Lincoln Goodwill Industries made possible the hiring of two handicapped men specially trained to supervise and train other handicapped men.

Howard Killen of Omaha was hired as supervisor in the electrical repair department and Cecil Platt of Superior, as supervisor in the shoe repair department.

Killen and Platt are both handicapped victims of polio. They received their special training at the Milford Trade School, John P. Gedwill, director of the Lincoln Goodwill Industries, said.

These two men will train other handicapped men so they can earn their own living without outside help.

The grant was from the Health and Welfare division of the National Rehabilitation Center.

$10,000 CAP Appropriation Refused, 4-3

The Legislature's Public Health Committee Tuesday refused by a one vote margin the request of the Nebraska Civil Air Patrol (CAP) for a $10,000 appropriation.

The vote to kill the measure, LB 511, was 4 to 3.

The money would have been administered by Maj. Gen. Guy Heninger, state adjutant general, in cooperation with an advisory committee. The committee would have been composed of Education Commissioner Freeman Decker, State Aeronautics Director J. D. Ramsey, and Col. Art Miller of Omaha, state CAP commander.

CAP members testified that their organization helps in times of emergency and disaster and is an integral part of the civil defense apparatus. However, they added that funds are needed to maintain surplus equipment furnished by the Air Force.

"Everybody has dug out of their pockets until they're getting bare," said L. G. Troth, Bellevue, State CAP communications chief.

William Latta of Hastings, representing the Nebraska Aviation Trades Assn., opposed the bill on the grounds that the CAP, a civilian auxiliary of the U.S. Air Force, should be supported by federal rather than state funds.

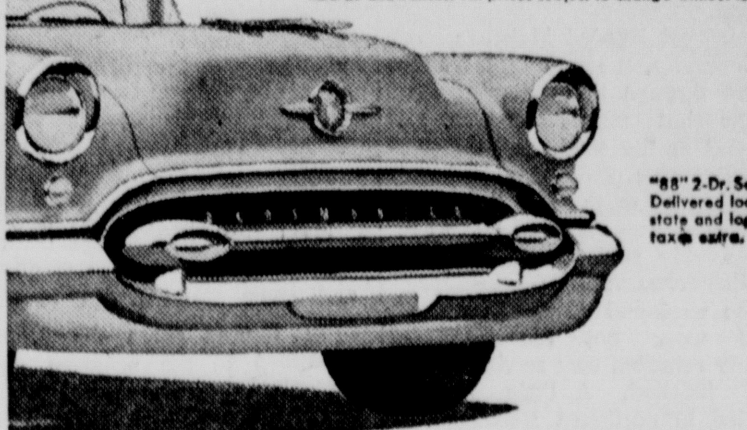

Latta, a CAP captain, charged that the Air Force has been negligent in helping the civilian organization and yet has exercised full control over it.

South Central, Eastern Wheat Aided By Snow, Sleet

West Still In Need Of Moisture

Moisture from recent snow and sleet was favorable for wheat in south-central and eastern Nebraska, government crop observers reported Tuesday.

Surface soil was becoming a little dry in those areas, although wheat has made some growth and abandonment apparently will be light, according to the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics.

West Needed Moisture

Generally, it appears that wheat came through the winter in good shape but more moisture is needed in the west. A few scattered reports of damage to winter wheat in the drier areas of western Nebraska were received last week, the weekly review noted.

Other observations:

The week-end storm stopped all field work but one southern county reported oats seeding about half finished. A little seeding started in northeast Nebraska.

Activity last week included cutting stalks, preparing land for seeding and applying lime and nitrogen fertilizer.

Some Livestock Lost

Some losses of calves and pigs were reported.

Although range is a little short in about half of the counties, there is very little shortage of hay and forage.

Precipitation throughout Nebraska during the past week included:

Division	Grand Island	Lincoln	Burwell	North Platte	Chadron	Imperial
Eastern Division	.97	.44	.04	.14	.21	.04
Central Division	.52	.08	.26	.16

Main area of precipitation Wednesday in the form of snow and snow flurries will extend from the upper Great Lakes westward to the northern and central Plains and Rockies. Except for snow flurries in upstate New York and West Virginia, it will be fair to partly cloudy over the eastern third of the nation.

A cold wave is expected in the Dakotas, Montana, Michigan and northern Indiana. It will be colder along the Atlantic seaboard except for New England and over the northern half of the country from the Atlantic to the Gulf states, lower Mississippi valley and southern Plains. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Full Accreditation Granted To 27 Nebraska Hospitals

Twenty-seven Nebraska hospitals have received full accreditation for the second straight year by the joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals.

Three other hospitals in the state have been retained on the list of provisionally accredited hospitals.

Dr. Kenneth B. Babcock, commission director, pointed out that the accreditation program is voluntary and only those hospitals which request survey are visited.

Since it was impossible to visit all requesting hospitals, he said, a hospital not listed may have requested the survey but not yet been visited.

Hospitals with less than 25 beds are not eligible for accreditation.

Certain Requirements

Dr. Babcock said the physicians who make the surveys rate a hospital on such factors as a safe physical plant, proper supervision of clinical work by the medical staff, mortality rates within reasonable limits, adequate medical records, ethical practices, proper nursing care, proper administrative and medical staff organization, and control of unnecessary surgery.

Provisionally accredited hospitals are those which have rated high enough on nearly all factors but are deficient in some phase.

The joint commission is an agency of the American College of Physicians, American College of Surgeons, American Hospital Association, American Medical Association and the Canadian Hospital Association.

Nebraska hospitals with full accreditation are:

- Alliance
- St. Joseph's Hospital
- Lutheran Hospital
- Columbus
- St. Mary's Hospital
- Grand Island
- St. Francis Hospital
- Veterans Administration Hospital
- Hastings
- Mary Lanning Memorial Hospital

Conviction Of John Rempel Is Reversed

DENVER (AP)—The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals Tuesday reversed the Federal District Court conviction of John W. Rempel, 21, of Henderson, Neb., on draft charges.

Rempel last May was given a three-year sentence for refusal to report for induction in Denver in 1953. He said he was a member of the Mennonite Church and thus exempt from military service as a conscientious objector.

The government, after Rempel's indictment later that year, said that Rempel has been "disobedient and showed lack of respect for the faculty" while attending Freeman, S. D., Bible College in 1951. Two traffic fines incurred by Rempel also were cited.

The Circuit Court ruled it had found no "moral misconduct or waywardness" sufficient to erase Rempel's conscientious objector claim.

COLUMBUS, Neb. (AP)—Bob Beelert, Page, and John Cerkle Jr., Tilden had top ranked entries in the junior steer show in connection with the Nebraska Aberdeen-Angus Breeders Assn. meeting here.

The junior futurity breeding heifer show and senior futurity show was held Tuesday, the annual banquet of the association was held Tuesday night and the annual spring show and sale will wind up the three-day event Wednesday.

Both Beelert and Cerkle were presented grand prizes of feeder calves after their entries tied for first in the junior steer show with 89½ points.

Burt Randall, Unadilla, was elected president of the association, Everett Miner, O'Neill, vice-president, and Percy Upton, Madison, secretary-treasurer.

Walter Arndt, Platte Center, and James Krejcek, Wood Lake, were elected to the board of directors.

Circus Elephants Stranded At York

YORK, Neb. (AP)—Five elephants were among travelers stranded by the recent snow storm in Nebraska. A trailer carrying the big animals bogged down on a snow-drifted highway near York.

They were taken to an REA storage building and housed there until roads were opened.

The elephants had performed last week at a circus in Sioux Falls, S. D., and were headed for winter quarters in Hugo, Fla.

Highway 77 Oakland Bid Is 'Very Low'

A "very low, satisfactory" bid has been made for widening and resurfacing of Highway 77 through Oakland, Neb., Gov. Victor Anderson said.

He said he will try to go to Oakland some time this week to study the request of an Oakland delegation that the highway be moved outside the town.

The delegation says the highway is a traffic hazard and noise nuisance to the combined grade and high school and to two churches located on it.

If the highway is widened, the Oakland group says, the traffic hazard will be worse because the edge of the road will be only a few yards from the school building.

Other Oakland persons favor leaving the highway where it is.

Anderson said he wants more facts on the cost of moving the highway and on the amount of traffic on it before he makes a decision.

2 NU Students Given $1,500 Fellowships

Two University of Nebraska students, Jerrold M. Yos, 25, of Lincoln, and Gerald M. Weinberg, 21, of Omaha, have been granted fellowships worth about $1,500 each by the National Science Foundation to continue their advanced studies in physics.

Yos received an undergraduate degree in 1952, a masters in 1954, and currently is working toward a Ph.D. He associated with Dr. Herbert Jehle, professor of physics, in fundamental research study of specific forces which influence the behavior of large molecules. This is the second National Science Foundation fellowship Yos has received. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Yos of 1325 A Street.

Weinberg will complete his undergraduate work at the university this spring. He plans to continue with graduate work at the University of California at Berkeley. Weinberg is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weinberg of Omaha, and is married to the former Patricia Karney of Omaha, who is also a student at the University of Nebraska.

Free—One Slightly Used Bald Eagle

ARCHER, Neb. — No takers have stepped forward to claim the bald eagle captured here last week. In fact, the Luebbe brothers, Kenneth and Dick, and Stanley Sinsel, are about ready to set the big fellow loose.

The trio captured the eagle in a field on the Luebbe farm just before sundown one night last week, after chasing the bird a considerable distance.

The big fellow was injured and couldn't fly, but the Luebbe brothers say he is in good shape now.

Heavy Eater

The brothers are still interested in having someone take the bird off their hands. They would prefer sending it to a park or zoo. Besides their not having a place to keep him, the bird eats a rabbit a day, and that kind of feeding runs into money.

Many folks from around Archer have dropped around to take a look at the bird. But none have offered to take it home.

Should the bird get its strength back in the wounded wing, and no takers drop around, the boys will set him free.

'Church-Going Family' Why Mrs. Abel In Government

HASTINGS, Neb. — Former U. S. Senator Hazel Abel, Lincoln, addressing the annual convention of the Nebraska Council of Churchwomen Tuesday attributed her interest in government to the fact she belongs to a "church-going family."

When her children were grown and she retired from active work in the business started by her husband, Mrs. Abel said, she had the "time, interest, enthusiasm and energy" to devote to extracurricular projects.

She chose government because "government protects the church and freedom of worship together with other character-building organizations."

Sen. Abel, herself a grandmother went on to say that work in youth organizations should not be done by grandmothers for that "cheats the mothers."

The two-day convention was scheduled to close Tuesday afternoon.

All officers with one exception were re-elected. They are:

Mrs. Harry Coggins, Aurora, president; Mrs. M. C. Leonard, Lincoln, first vice president; Mrs. Owen Rutherford, Grand Island, second vice president; Mrs. F. E. Udlock, Hastings, secretary, and Mrs. Ernest Zalman, Hastings, treasurer.

All committee chairmen were appointed.

The 1956 convention will be in Omaha. The group accepted the invitation extended by Mrs. Earl J. Smiley, president of the Omaha Council of Church Women.

Toughest Course in Mobilgas Economy Run History

Starting from Los Angeles, contestants in the Mobilgas Economy Run were required to travel the tortuous route selected by the American Automobile Association, through the extremes of conditions likely to be encountered in 12 months of ordinary driving. Within the run from California to Colorado Springs the cars went from a low of 218 feet below sea level to a high of 9382 feet at La Veta Pass—encountered over 100 miles of restricted city driving—competed in extreme desert heat and freezing mountain cold.

1323-mile run in 3 days duplicated year's average driving conditions in all weather

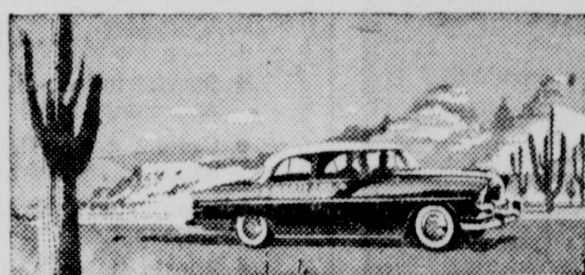

Here is dramatic proof of the amazing mileage that can be obtained with cars kept in top shape and carefully driven—powered by gasoline from the Mobilgas pumps.

Here is convincing evidence of the extraordinary performance and economy possible when your gasoline is powered two ways—with high octane and the three gas-saving additives known as "Mobil Power Compound."

Here is a graphic demonstration that if your car has a modern, high-compres-sion engine and, like all those competing, automatic transmission, you can have maximum power and greater mileage for your gasoline dollar—more miles per gallon—with Mobilgas Special.

Add to all this the advantages of New Mobiloil Special—the all-weather motor oil—that has increased gasoline mileage up to 23%—and you can see why you should stop at the sign of the Flying Red Horse. Fill up at the Mobilgas pumps. You'll be way ahead of past performances in power—and economy!

In desert heat, through city streets, on open roads, competing cars had to average 40.294 miles per hour without ever exceeding city and highway speed limits.

Over mountains the run continued to its completion. All cars were required to travel the course in the prescribed time of 32 hours and 50 minutes or be disqualified.

Ike Asks Extended Trade Agreements Act To Win Contest With Communists

...Senate Finance Group Eyes Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unless the United States makes it possible for the free world to trade more freely, President Eisenhower said Tuesday, "we are not going to win the ideological contest" with communism.

He sounded this note of warning as the Senate Finance Committee resumed hearings on his controversial proposal for a three-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act with expanded tariff-cutting powers.

In an informal talk to the Advertising Council, a group of private businessmen who aid the government on public service programs, Eisenhower said a trade plan doesn't just mean opening American markets to people all over the globe.

"Like all other foreign policy, its genesis is the enlightened self-interest of the United States," he said.

Must Have Means
"But it is in recognition of this fact, that if the United States itself is to prosper, it must have means by which it can sell its products, and therefore it has to buy others."

In addition to extending the Trade Agreements Act to June 12, 1958, the bill pending in Congress would give the President authority to cut tariffs a maximum of 15 per cent over that period in return for foreign trade concessions.

The House passed the bill 295-110 Feb. 18 after a two-day fight. An even tougher battle is shaping up in the Senate.

Eisenhower told the Advertising Council the "great ideological struggle going on in the world" is between the materialism of the Communists and the free world's concept that man is something more than "an educated animal."

But he said "we are not presenting our case very well." An enlightened trade plan will help, he went on, and the Council can help put it over.

Great Purpose

Eisenhower said "it would be fatal, in my opinion, here at home to allow the accumulated minor objections of each district or each industry . . . to defeat us in this great purpose of the economic union."

If the ideological battle is fought well, he added, "there is no more chance for communism in the world than there would be for one of us to take off and fly to the moon without the aid of science."

In the Senate, however, objections to the administration's trade program continued to pile up.

Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) urged the Finance Committee to adopt an amendment which would require the President to submit every trade agreement to Congress for approval before it could become effective.

Sen. Bennett (R-Utah) proposed another amendment which would impose a duty of two cents a pound on zinc and copper imports whenever the domestic price fell below 13 cents. He said the price today is 11½ cents for zinc and well above 13 cents for copper.

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla) asked the committee to approve an amendment sponsored by 17 senators to restrict the importation of crude oil to 10 per cent of domestic production.

A three-member committee to investigate ways of "expediting the handling of motor vehicle license plates" has been named by County Board Chairman Russell Brehm.

Commissioner Del Lieneman was named chairman. Others are State Sen. Tom Adams of Lincoln and County Treasurer C. E. Berg.

One suggestion has been that the public be encouraged to obtain their car plates by mail to eliminate the annual jamming of the Courthouse.

River Plan OK'd

WASHINGTON (INS) — A Senate Interior Subcommittee tentatively approved the one and a half billion dollar bill for development of the Colorado River for irrigation storage projects and for power. Chairman Clinton Anderson (D-NM) said agreements have been reached on all points and he expects the measure to go to the full committee after language changes are drafted by staff members.

POSTCARD

For some time now I have kept an eye on the ladies while they yammered and had little fits over antiques.

I pay little attention to such things normally. For I notice dollies go off on tangents but usually harmless enough at that. It is only recently that I noted that such things were creeping into my own household. Like socialism.

New things have been replaced by old things. Rare old things. Expensive things. Things you cannot sit on or put your feet on.

You are hardly fashionable these days unless your furnishings are holed by worms who knew George Washington personally.

Well, all I will advise is to hold onto your new things. For surely they will become old things. And ladies will gather them up at great price to make into magazine racks or flower bowls.

The other day I dropped into an antique store to see what's old.

"One of the best buys these days," said the antique lady, "is any kind of cast iron lawn ornament. Iron dogs, iron deer, iron benches. They were a sign of opulence in the 1890s and they are on their way up again."

"What do you think they're worth?"

"About $1 a pound roughly. A cast iron fountain of Leda and the Swan by the Fisk Iron Works of New York recently went at about five times that price.

"Old bird cages are very rare. Osborn of New York did a Grand Aviary that looked like a wire castle with a soldier and flag on top. I don't know where you could pick one up today."

Well, this is sad news to a frugal man. The last time I saw a bird cage like this was in the attic of a youthful companion of my salad days.

We took it down in the yard and dismantled it and made a beaver trap. There were a very few beaver if any in Illinois. But we had just finished a paperback called "Dick, the Rocky Mountain Trapper." We were fired with frontier ambition.

As for iron deer, the South Side of Chicago was full of iron deer. We used to fling rocks at them to hear them go "Thunk!" A dollar a pound. Wow!

"Carnival glass is coming to the front again," said the antique lady. "This glass was given away as prizes for tossing rings over canes and such games."

"Do you think I could do anything with a papier mache dog with a lamp inside?" I asked. "It is a rare piece I won in a game of skill at the 1939 World's Fair."

The antique lady said she thought electrical fixtures were too recent.

"Now the portable library gas lamp is worth a good deal. And I would gove anything to get my hands on one of the first electric bulbs. They were etched and engraved and probably scarcer today than Amelung glassware."

"I don't doubt it," I said sadly. "For I recall as a boy we had several in the attic and used them to fling at stray cats. They made a wonderful pop."

"Magic lanterns are very good," she said. "The slides are even better."

"Mine has long disappeared."

"Perhaps you have one of the wonderful old heavy waffle irons?"

"Grandma threw it out when the first GE models came out. Said she couldn't bear to look at it another day."

"I'm sure your family ground their own coffee."

"They did until the chain stores began selling it already ground. The coffee grinder went to Aunt Mary in the country. After that I don't know what happened to it."

"You don't happen to have a school inkwell? Inkwells are scarce. One recently sold for $250."

"I haven't seen an inkwell since they invented fountain pens."

"Maybe you saved a shaving mug? They're becoming legitimate antiques."

"No, ma'am," I said. "I didn't save one. But we bought one the other day. I suspect we are going to make a lamp out of it."

Welfare Caseworkers Get $20-$30 Pay Hikes

The Lancaster County Board Tuesday gave caseworkers in the public welfare department salary increases of $20 to $30 a month, effective April 1.

Welfare Director W. W. McDermet said 26 caseworkers were involved — 17 professional workers on the public assistance staff and nine in child welfare work.

The new salary range for the senior caseworker is $340 to $440 a month. Caseworker trainees receive from $210 to $265.

McDermet said the work of the child welfare unit in the past "has not been entirely satisfactory" and that "there has been a greater expenditure of boarding home care funds than necessary."

Cause of this, McDermet said, has been "the inability of the welfare department to recruit and hold qualified personnel because of low wages."

While this represents a $635 increase in the monthly payroll, Mc-

Dermet estimated ability to secure qualified personnel would result in savings elsewhere. Also the child welfare staff has been reduced from 12 to nine workers.

In other discussion, the County Board noted that the state is reportedly short of child welfare funds.

While child welfare work has been carried on totally with state funds in the past, McDermet said current legislation provides for 50-50 matching with the county.

He estimated that this would cost the county an additional $15,000 to $16,000 annually.

McDermet said his department would probably look to the federal agencies for help. Federal funds are available for such work as juvenile delinquency, he said.

THIS, THAT--AND SUCH

MISS SHIRLEY ANN HARTMAN

Plans May Wedding

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Shirley Ann Hartman, daughter of Mrs. Laura V. Hartman, to Robert Larry Kruse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester T. Kruse of Jefferson City, Mo., is made this morning by the bride-elect's mother.

The wedding is planned for Saturday, May 21.

Miss Hartman is a former student at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

Mr. Kruse attended the University of Missouri and also is a former student at the University of Kansas where he is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. He now is stationed with the Navy at Coronado, Calif.

EVERY DAY there's something new under the sun — not always liked, maybe — but new. This morning, for instance, we learned something that delighted us in a Lincoln-basking-in-reflected-glory sort of way. Actually Lincoln is little concerned with our information—But those who have visited the current Nebraska Art Association show doubtless have paused before Mariska Karasz's "Inventions"—fashioned of embroideries, wood, wire and this and that—And perhaps many of you have

Plan Camp Fire Meeting

Meeting at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning at the Camp Fire office will be a special committee which will make plans for the six-state regional meeting of the Camp Fire Girls Association, to be held in Lincoln April 17, 18 and 19.

Committee members include Mrs. Kenneth E. Clark, Lincoln Camp Fire Council president; Dr. Clifford Hicks, national board member; Herbert Walt and Mrs. William Stenten, regional representatives; Mrs. Edwin Hammond and Mrs. Kent Morgan, hostess committee members; Mrs. Dewey Nelson and Mrs. Clifford Jorgensen, regional committee members.

Representatives from Missouri, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado and Wyoming will attend the regional meeting, which will be held at the Hotel Cornhusker.

Plan Luncheon

The League of Women Voters of Lincoln will hold its annual business meeting on Thursday following a noon luncheon at the Lincoln Hotel. Mrs. Roland Mueller and Mrs. W. B. Boucher will be hostesses.

seen the signature "Ilonka Karasz" on the very clever covers of the New Yorker—Ilonka and Mariska are sisters.

SOMEONE told us that John Lilly, who is attending George Washington University in Washington, D. C., will be arriving home on Saturday, April 2, to spend the Easter holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lilly.

AND this is the morning that Miss Sally Jo Speicher, whose marriage to Peter Bergsten of Barrington, Ill., takes place on June 4, is announcing the members of the bridal party.

Miss Speicher has chosen her sister, Miss Sandra Speicher of Omaha, as her maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will include Miss Mary Egan, Miss Ann Koker of Sidney; Mrs. Harris Poley, Lincoln; Mrs. Richard Spangler (Bobbie Russell), Biloxi, Miss; Mrs. H. David Neely, Miss Diane Young, and Miss Suzanne Opitz.

Rodger Lindwall of Omaha will serve Mr. Bergsten as best man, and the ushers will include Lt. Richard Clausen, Aberdeen, Md.; Robert Pecha, Chicago; Richard Christoph, Wilmette, Ill.; Robert Stone, Ft. Worth, Tex.; Harris Poley, Lincoln; William Hamsa and H. David Neely.

THINK WE might have room to at least get one more party in for Miss Karen Benson, who is to marry Kenneth Moore — and the bridal party of Miss Alice Frampton, whose marriage to Marcus Dittman also will be solemnized in April.

This evening Miss Benson will be complimented when Mrs. Paul Bogott and Mrs. Worth Fisher are hostesses at a desert supper and a one - gift shower at the home of Mrs. Bogott.

THE wedding of Miss Frampton and Mr. Dittman will take place in Memorial Chapel, St. Paul Methodist Church, on Saturday evening, April 9—and the bridal attendants will include Mrs. Robert E. Frampton of Des Moines, Ia., sister-in-law of the bride, who will be the matron of honor; Miss Alice Irwin of Denver, the bridesmaid.

Teen-Age Canteen

The Y-Teen Interclub Council of the Lincoln YWCA recently has organized a Be-Pop Club, a canteen for high school students, which will meet from 9 o'clock to 11 o'clock, the second and fourth Saturday evenings of each month.

The canteen will open on Saturday night, and all tenth, eleventh and twelfth grade students who hold membership cards, which are available at the high schools or at the YW, may attend.

There will be a small admission charged to the canteen, which will be held in YW recreation room, and supervising the dances will be parents of Be-Pop Club members and members of the YW teen-age committee.

Interclub Council members who helped plan the canteen are Katherine Helmsdoerfer, Kay Hill, Jo Ann Gabarron and Bob Hays of Lincoln High School, and Connie Bray, Aletha Deal and Sharon Kuehn of Northeast High School.

Soroptimist Program

Members of women's service clubs in Lincoln have been invited to attend the 6:30 o'clock dinner and program of the Soroptimist International of Lincoln, Wednesday evening at the Hotel Cornhusker, when Harry G. Gould will be guest speaker.

An advisor to the Minister of Agriculture under the Foreign Operations Administration, Mr. Gould will speak on, "People of Turkey: Their Life and Habits."

In charge of arrangements will be Mrs. L. L. Coryell Jr., Miss Clara Aronson, Dr. Florence McKinney, Miss Selma B. Anderson and Mrs. E. W. Johnson.

Robert E. Frampton will serve Mr. Dittman as best man.

UNDERSTAND that Mrs. Hugh Williams (Mary Jean Neely) has just returned to Lincoln after joining Sgt. Williams at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., after completion of his training, Sgt. and Mrs. Williams, who now are spending some time with Mrs. Williams' parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. Marshall Neely, will leave on April 1 for Sgt. Williams' new assignment at Ft. Belvoir, Va. Mrs. Williams will devote her efforts to finding a place to live, and then will return to pick up her young son, David, and return to Ft. Belvoir.

Delta Gamma Banquet

Mrs. Frank B. Anderson and Mrs. William Swanson are co-chairmen for the annual Founders Day banquet of Delta Gamma which will be held at 6:30 o'clock Friday evening at the Hotel Cornhusker.

Active and alumnae members of the sorority will attend the banquet and program, and the committee in charge of arrangements will include Mrs. Norman Locke, Mrs. Robert Hines, Mrs. John David, Miss Sally Adams, Mrs. Robert Knoll, Mrs. Norman Wilnes, Mrs. James Grant and Miss Sally Bartling.

Among the alumnae members who will be coming from out of town are Mrs. Charles Adams and Mrs. Ed Coblenz, Aurora; Mrs. Irving Augustine, Mrs. Dale Ball, Mrs. Robert Carter and Mrs. Arch Jarrell, Grand Island; Mrs. George Haslam, Fremont; Mrs. Robert Isham, Chadron; Mrs. Robert Anderson, Mrs. Bryce Crawford, Mrs. Marian Cook, Mrs. Arch Dinsmore, Mrs. M. G. Farrow, Mrs. J. W. Pomeroy, Mrs. Allen Potter, Mrs. Charles Schorr and Mrs. James Wells, all of Omaha.

To Be Hostess To PEO Group

Mrs. W. Joyce Ayres will be hostess to the members of Chapter CS, PEO, at a 1 o'clock luncheon Friday at her home, 2647 Winthrop. Assisting her as hostesses will be Mrs. R. M. Armstrong, Mrs. Leonard Dunker and Mrs. W. M. Stoner Jr.

Hostess And Guest

Home from MacMurray College, Jacksonville, Ill., for a two weeks spring holiday is Miss Natalie Zolot. Miss Zolot was accompanied to Lincoln by Miss Ann Sundt of Madison, Wis., also a student at MacMurray College, who will spend the vacation period as the house guest of Miss Zolot and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Zolot. During her stay in Lincoln Miss Sundt will be honored by numerous informal courtesies.

Alpha Phi Style Show

The annual spring banquet of Alpha Phi, to be held at 6:30 o'clock Saturday evening at the Hotel Cornhusker, will have as its theme, "The Alpha Phi Scrapbook," to be illustrated by members modeling collegiate apparel of the past and present.

Mrs. William Wiley is chairman for the banquet, and the toastmistress will be Mrs. Jack Rees of Kansas City, Mo. Immediately following the banquet, an informal open house will be held at the chapter house.

Members of the banquet committee include Mrs. Burton Folson, Mrs. Dean Arter, Mrs. William Stoner, Mrs. Kenneth Cobb, Mrs. George Unthank, Mrs.

Bruce Fullerton, Mrs. Robert Lipps, Mrs. Jack Stone, Mrs. Bruce Nicoll, Mrs. Ed T. Smith, Mrs. E. H. Schumacher, Mrs. James Nicola, Mrs. Fred Craft, Mrs. John D. Campbell, Mrs. Richard Berkheimer, Mrs. Varro Tyler, Mrs. Ellet B. Drake, Mrs. Dan DePutron, Mrs. Vivian Baker, Mrs. Emerson Jones, Miss Kay Kinsey, Miss Marie McKee and Mrs. Don Coy.

Coming from out of town for the event will be Mrs. Heath Griffiths, Mrs. William Rist and Mrs. Charles Zimmerman, Beatrice; Mrs. Dick Rogers, Gibbon; Mrs. Milton Wagner, Columbus; Mrs. Roger Thuman, Trenton; Mrs. Ed Burke, Imperial; Mrs. Mendel Archard, Hastings; and from Omaha, Mrs. James Bailey, Mrs. George Peter, Mrs. John Rushton, Mrs. Richard Buck, Mrs. Ray Stryker, Mrs. Walter Penko, Mrs. Walter Johnson and Mrs. Robert Southworth.

Credit Women Hold Dinner

The monthly dinner-meeting of the Lincoln Credit Women's Breakfast Club was held Monday evening at the YWCA when a report on the Sixth District Consumer Credit Conference held last week at Omaha was given by a group of members who had attended.

Included among the conference speakers was Mrs. Nelle Hudkins of Lincoln, former local and district president, whose topic was, "The Value of Teamwork."

Lincoln B, PW To Hear Talk

Following the 6 o'clock dinner of the Lincoln Business and Professional Women's Club, to be held Thursday evening at the club rooms, County Judge Herbert A. Ronin will be guest speaker.

Brides-Elect Name Attendants

Announcing the members of her bridal party this morning is Miss Phyllis Jean Burk, who will become the bride of Donald D. Leach on Saturday, March 26.

As her maid of honor, Miss Burk has named her sister, Miss Frances Burk, and her bridesmaid will be her cousin, Mrs. Harold Honeycut. Attending her sister as flower girl for the 2 o'clock ceremony, which will take place at the Havelock Methodist Church, will be Miss Beverly Ann Burk.

Bill Plautz will serve Mr. Leach as best man, and the ushers will be Mr. Leach's brothers, Lewis Leach and Melvin Leach.

Monday evening, Mrs. Warren Holstein and Mrs. Leon Leach entertained at the Leach home in courtesy to the bride-to-be. A small group of guests were invited to the 7:30 o'clock dessert supper and shower. Miss Frances Burk was hostess last Wednesday evening to 16 guests in honor of her sister, who was presented a miscellaneous shower.

Miss Lois Knowles, whose betrothal to William Cole was announced recently, has set Tuesday, March 29, as the date for her wedding. The ceremony will take place at the Methodist Church in Reno, Nev.

Recently, Miss Knowles was the guest of honor at a dessert supper and bridal shower when Mrs. Wayne Campbell and Mrs. George Allen entertained 10 guests at the Campbell home.

An April bride-elect is Miss Jo Anne Brown, whose marriage to Richard Oaks will be solemnized at 4 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, April 2. Miss Betty Jenkins will attend Miss Brown as maid of honor, and the bridesmaid will be Miss Marjorie Riddle. Lighting the candles for the service, which will take place at the First Presbyterian Church, will be Miss Pat Roberts of Omaha, and Miss Gloria Funk.

Included among recent pre-nuptial courtesies honoring Miss Brown was the kitchen shower given by Mrs. Paul Ayers and Mrs. W. P. Schnieber at the Schnieber home.

Bethany PTA Presents Awards

Bethany PTA members presented six PTA life memberships Tuesday afternoon at the group's monthly meeting when they honored fellow members for their service to the school. Those who received the awards

Following a State Day program, "This, Our Nebraska," by fifth grade pupils, the PTA elected new officers. President for the coming year will be Mrs. H. B. Conant, and other officers are Mrs. Carl DeVaney, first vice president; Mrs. Evelyn Kahoa, second vice president; Mrs. Eugene Chadwell, third vice president; Mrs. James West, secretary; Mrs. Harlan Allen, treasurer; Mrs. Phil Henderson, parliamentarian, and Mrs. Harold Pegler, historian.

PTA Hears Speakers

HUNTINGTON PTA members elected Mr. and Mrs. William Schultz as co-presidents of the group at the monthly meeting Tuesday evening. Other new officers are Mr. and Mrs. Don Clifton, first vice presidents; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Holm, second vice presidents; Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Barringer, co-secretaries; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Snider, co-treasurers; and council representatives, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Conway and Mr. and Mrs. George Knight, Jr.

Guest speaker was the Rev. Carl M. Davidson, minister of the First Methodist Church, who spoke on, "Getting Together With Our Children."

State Senator Monroe Bixler was guest speaker Tuesday evening at the annual fathers' night program of EVERETT PTA. Sen. Bixler spoke on, "Nebraska, Our State," after which a film, "What It Means To Be An American," was shown. A program of songs was given by the Lincoln High School boys' octet, directed by Miss Helen Siefkes, and hosts for the evening were Henry Sommers, Clarence Deer and Arthur Owens.

The members of SHERIDAN PTA held their annual State Day and Founders Day observances Monday afternoon when numbers by the school orchestra, directed by Miss Leatha Hart, were included in the program.

A discussion, "The Role of the PTA for a Better Home, School and Community," was moderated by Mrs. James Ackerman with Dr. Galen Saylor, state PTA president, and Mrs. Ralph Beechner, state PTA legislative chairman, as featured speakers.

Annual Home Economics Day

The third annual Home Economics Day for Nebraska Homemakers will be held at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture Friday under the sponsorship of the university home economics and home extension staffs, and the Home Economics Association of Homemakers.

Mrs. Elmer Erickson of Tekamah, association president, will preside at the morning session which will open with a 9 o'clock coffee. Group singing will be led by Mrs. Alina Tullis, and E. W. Janike, associate director of extension service, will welcome the group.

Mrs. Clara Leopold, extension specialist in home management, will moderate a panel discussion in which the participants will be Dr. Helen Linkswiler, Dr. Kenneth Cannon, Mrs. Virginia Trotter and Mrs. Arnold Barager of the home economics department.

A talk on, "Achieving Distinction in Dress," by Miss Iris Davenport, woman's editor of the Nashville, Tenn., Farm and Ranch Southern Agriculturist, will be followed by luncheon.

Presiding at the afternoon session will be Mrs. Marion Sisco of Otoe, association vice president. Dr. Jules Labarthe of the University of Pittsburgh's Mellon Institute of Industrial Research will be the featured speaker, and a talk by Dr. Florence McKinney, chairman of the University of Nebraska home economics department, will conclude the program.

Other association officers are Dr. McKinney and Miss Florence J. Atwood, vice presidents ex officio; and Miss Agnes Arthaud, secretary-treasurer.

BSP Chapter Makes Gifts

BASEBALL'S 'D-DAY' HITS LINCOLN

Yankees' 'Carefree Casey' Has Perplexing Problems

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — On the surface, Casey Stengel appears happy, carefree and confident of restoring the New York Yankees to their former lofty perch. But diligent and patient listening to this master of the double talk creates a different impression—that the New York leader realizes he has some perplexing problems confronting him this season.

Just listen to Casey and see what you think.

"I've got 22 pitchers in this here camp," he started out, "but I can't name you but three that I figure will start during the regular season. They would be Ford (Whitey), Grim (Bob) and Turley (Bob). The two bonus boys I got must stay with us (Frank Leja, first baseman from Holyoke, Mass., and Tom Carroll, shortstop from Notre Dame). They take up two places. "In two years I lost two of my best pitchers, Raschi (Vic) and Reynolds (Allie). This Grim you might say made up for Raschi last year. He won 20. Now we make a trade with Baltimore and get me this Turley. If he goes as good as he should he might make up for Reynolds. Right now I haven't decided on a fourth pitcher. This Larsen (Don) hasn't pitched yet. He's got some arm trouble. Lopat (Eddie) is my fifth pitcher.

"We also got Sain (Johnny), Konstanty (Jim), Byrne (Tommy) and Morgan (Tom). Now there's a couple of youngsters I like. . . . Sturdivant (Tom), who has good control and knows how to pitch and Kucks (John) whose got a good fast ball and curve. That's pretty good pitching but this Cleveland team, with a bunch of experienced pitchers, now have this other feller (minor league strike-out king Herb Score). That could be rough.

"No club has got five outfielders as good as the five I have (Mickey Mantle, Irv Noren, Hank Bauer, Enos Slaughter and Bob Cerv). Some of the other clubs might think they have but they haven't.

"I got a good infield but I wish we had Billy Martin (now in the Army) back. I got a lot of first basemen (Bill Skowron, Joe Collins, Ed Robinson, Dick Kryhoski and Leja). Skowron, who hit around .340 in his rookie year, gets first call. Collins can play first or the outfield if I need him there. The others can pinch hit.

Red Sox Edge Pirates In Drizzle, 5-4

SARASOTA, Fla. — The Boston Red Sox jumped on Elroy Face in the eighth inning for six straight hits, then had to stave off a ninth-inning rally to edge the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-4, before 1,503 fans who sat through a drizzle Tuesday to see Boston chalk up its fifth straight Grapefruit League victory.

Veteran Ellis Kinder was the victim of the Pirate uprising when he gave up four hits and a walk before forcing Toby Atwell to ground out with the winning runs on base.

The Red Sox racked up six straight hits in the eighth for four runs off Face. Gene Stephens and Norm Zauchin opened with singles and Ted Lepcio's 380-foot double drove home two runs to break a 1-1 tie. Owen Friend and Pete Daley followed with hits and pinch hitter Billy Klaus singled to complete the rally.

Dick Broowski, back with Boston after two years in the Army, hurled scoreless ball for five innings, but his successor Al Schroll was declared the winner.

Alston, Rice Lead St. Louis Attack

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — Tom Alston and Del Rice each contributed three hits in helping the St. Louis Cardinals to a 7-6 verdict over the Cincinnati Redlegs Tuesday in an exhibition game.

Tony Jacobs, one of Manager Eddie Stanky's bullpen prospects who won 13 and lost only one at Rochester last year, gave up one hit in three innings and was the winning pitcher.

The Cardinals scored five runs on five hits in their last two innings. The Redlegs knocked out Bobby Tiefenauer in the ninth, scoring four runs.

ORLANDO, Fla. — Jesse Levan's pinch single with the bases loaded off Tom LaSorda with none out in the 10th inning broke a 3-3 deadlock and gave the Washington Senators a 4-3 victory over Brooklyn Tuesday.

Successive singles by Roy Sievers and Tom Umphlett, plus an intentional pass to pinch hitter Alex Crespo, filled the bases before Levan singled off first baseman Gil Hodges' glove. He scored Juan Delis, running for Sievers, from third base.

Shantz On Mound In Athletic Loss

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. — Rookie infielder Charley Neal blasted a two-run homer in the ninth inning Tuesday to bring the Brooklyn Dodgers "B" team a 10-9 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

It was Neal's second homer of the day and one of four Brooklyn circuit bloopers in the last two innings. Ed Moore and Frank Elbert also smacked home runs.

Bobby Shantz pitched the first two innings for the Athletics. He retired the side in order in the first but gave up two runs in the second. Shantz said his arm felt good but he complained his control was faulty.

55,000 Ducats Sold Is Goal Of Chiefs' Ticket Campaign

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Wednesday is D-Day in Lincoln as the Lincoln Chiefs' advance-sale ticket drive gets underway.

Ten local service clubs will spend today, Thursday and Friday selling the bargain books, aiming for a total sale of over 5,000 books or 55,000 tickets.

The important drive will be launched at 7:30 a.m. when the coaches and workers gather at the Cornhusker Hotel for the Kickoff Breakfast. Capt. Walter Kennedy of the Salvation Army will be the guest speaker.

From there they'll scatter to begin the chore of selling top-notch baseball to the fans of Lincoln.

Five clubs — Sertoma, Exchange, Rotary, Optimist and Downtown Lions — will compete against each other in the business district, which has been divided and areas assigned to each club.

Suburban areas will be handled by the Havelock Lions and Business Men's Assn., the Bethany Lions, the College View Lions and the University Place - Northeast Rotary.

More than 250 men, under the overall direction of General Chairman Joe Fenton, will participate in the drive which is being held in conjunction with National Baseball Week.

11 For 10

The bargain books will contain 11 tickets and will be sold for the price of 10. Both grandstand (at $9) and bleacher (at $6) will be sold at the cut-rate price.

But Fenton has stressed that the bargain price will last only through Friday.

In the downtown area of the city, both businesses and employees will be contacted by the club workers.

The clubs and their coaches include:

Sertoma, Ced Yoder.
Exchange, Gerry Rosenberger.
Rotary, Howard Linch.
Optimist, John W. Stahn.
Downtown Lions, Reginald E. Davies.

Havelock Lions and Business Men's Assn., Slim Jewell and John Hobbs.

Bethany Lions, Rollin B. Bailey.
College View Lions, Don Schmidt.
University Place & Northeast Rotary, Dr. J. V. Vogelsang.

Announcement that Williamsport, Pa., of the Class A Eastern League has folded will provide the ticket-sellers with additional good news for the customer-fan.

Dick Wagner, general manager of the Chiefs, Tuesday termed the Williamsport collapse "a gold mine for us," and said "this is bound to help Lincoln."

Wagner stressed that he "hates to see any team have to quit," but he pointed out that Lincoln will become the No. 1 Class A farm team in the Pittsburgh Pirate system, thus giving the Chiefs first track at the Class A players in the Pirate organization.

While the fans have been assured a "pennant contender" already, the jump to the No. 1 A ranking undoubtedly will mean Lincoln will field a fine team under veteran manager Bill Burwell. After several years of sub-par baseball because of a lack of major league help, Lincoln now is in a position to provide Sherman Field patrons with deluxe summertime entertainment.

So the advance-sale ticket drive is offering local baseball fans a chance to obtain outstanding baseball action at a bargain price. Wednesday and Thursday the five downtown clubs will compete against each other by areas, while Friday there will be an "open season."

An accounting will be held Friday night at the Cornhusker Hotel. All coaches and workers are asked to attend the Kick-Off breakfast today.

Rain Washes Out Orioles, Tigers Go

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — Rain washed out Tuesday's scheduled exhibition baseball game between the Baltimore Orioles and the Detroit Tigers.

Drive Chief Tells Importance Of Baseball To City's Youth

"What we do today has a direct bearing on the development of our youth for the future," Joe Fenton, general manager of the drive to sell advance bargain tickets for Lincoln Chiefs' baseball games, said Tuesday.

He added: "If we can get the folks and the kids interested in baseball, it will go a long way toward solving the city's problems."

"The fans are being given a chance to get a 10 per cent discount on Chiefs' tickets which are good for the entire season. They can buy books to be used by the entire family—the tickets aren't limited just to an individual—so it means a savings and an opportunity for fine family fun at a great place, the ball park."

"Increased support of the Chiefs will be a tremendous thing for the growth of Lincoln. I'm sure we'll come through in good shape."

Wet Field Slows Chiefs Drills; Bat Cage Busy

HUNTSVILLE — The Texas skies cleared Tuesday morning and the Lincoln Chiefs took to the field around 9:30 to begin their workouts.

Since the infielders were still muddy, the morning session was spent in getting muscles loosened up with a lot of running and exercises.

The diamonds were dry enough after lunch for an afternoon session in the batting cage with everybody hitting — "even the trainer," as Manager Bill Burwell put it.

The afternoon workouts ended

Army Shortstop Signs With Chiefs

The Lincoln Chiefs have signed shortstop Ray Hozey to a contract and he will report to the Huntsville camp Tuesday.

Hozey, just out of the Army, agreed to terms by phone with Business Manager Dick Wagner Monday afternoon.

A native of Ft. Mill, S. C., Hozey is 6 feet, 180 pounds. The 23-year-old infielder played part of a season of professional baseball at Panama City, Fla., in 1952 before entering the Army.

He hit .300 in 70 games, getting 86 hits, 10 doubles and 13 triples. He stole 12 bases and batted in 43 runs.

Springfield Said Possible EL Site

HARTFORD, Conn. — An offer to buy the Williamsport, Pa., Eastern League baseball franchise was made Tuesday by Roy Dissinger, widely known in Hartford sports circles.

Dissinger, who was general manager of the Norfolk club of the Piedmont League last summer, sent a wire to President Tomny Richardson of the Eastern League offering to take the franchise and place it in Springfield, Mass.

Williamsport practically withdrew from the league because an advance sale of tickets fell far short of its mark of $50,000.

Dissinger has had extensive service in baseball. For 15 years he scouted, managed and coached in the St. Louis Cardinals system and has held similar posts with the Cubs and Red Sox. In 1947 he was general manager at New Orleans.

about 3:00 and the players returned to the barracks.

Stelmach Reports

Joe Stelmach reported into camp Tuesday. He started last season with the Denver Bears and developed arm trouble about the middle of the year. He dropped out of baseball and pitched semi-pro ball in South Dakota, but his arm is all right now and he is listed on the Lincoln roster.

All the players in the camp have been divided into units with a different manager assigned to each unit every day. This way, all the managers will get a look at every boy in the camp and become familiar with him. This will aid them when the time comes for the managers to pick their team.

Burwell said he expects an intra-squad game this afternoon, with the morning session being used for exercising and general conditioning.

Pass Drills Occupy N.U.

Departmental examinations again cut the size of Nebraska's football team Tuesday, but Coach Glassford held another heavy scrimmage with the emphasis on passing, in the NU Field House.

One personnel change was made Tuesday as the Huskers prepped for the All Sports Day intra-squad game Saturday.

Bob Copper, freshman from Monessen, Pa., was shifted back to end. He's been playing tackle since shortly after the spring drills opened.

Yankee Don Larsen Says Arm Better

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — Right-hander Don Larsen gave his ailing arm a workout Tuesday, pitching three innings of a New York Yankee intra-squad game played in rain and mist. After his stint, the tall pitcher told Manager Casey Stengel that the arm was much improved.

"The stabbing pain in the shoulder, which I had the first couple of weeks here, is gone," he said. "There still is a slight soreness but I guess that will work out."

Milwaukee, Phils Game Cancelled

CLEARWATER, Fla. — Rain Tuesday ended a 31-day drought here and washed out the exhibition baseball game scheduled between the Philadelphia Phillies and Milwaukee Braves. Though the rain ended before noon, the grounds were too wet for baseball.

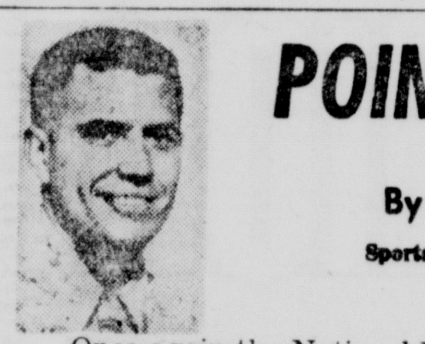

This was the first cancellation for the Phillies since the start of the Grapefruit League season. They had played 12 games in a row without interference from the weather.

Meanwhile, Manager Mayo Smith was feeling good about the performance of pitcher Lynn Lovenguth, a 31-year-old rookie up from Syracuse in the International League. Lovenguth came on in the sixth inning to relieve Lefty Tom Casagrande against the St. Louis Cardinals Monday and protected a 3-2 lead for the last four innings. Smith is hoping Lovenguth will blossom into a relief expert this year.

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant
Sports Editor, The Star

Once again the National Basketball Rules Committee has changed the rules of the game—a yearly habit. This is just another step in the wrong direction.

Changing the rules of the game every year certainly isn't the answer. We go along with Nebraska's Jerry Bush who is stumping in favor of "more contact, not rule changes."

Let Jerry tell it: "It is my personal feeling and it was the general feeling among the coaches at Kansas City (NCAA) tourney and coaches meeting that the rule-makers will have to allow more contact in basketball if it is to survive as the great spectator sport that it is."

"For several years they've (rules committee) been trying to kill contact, and by the nature of the rules the defensive player constantly is penalized."

Jerry is a strong supporter of the "direct bearing" philosophy in basketball officiating. The idea is to let the players have contact as long as the contact does not interfere with a team or have a direct bearing on the outcome of a particular maneuver.

"If two boys go up for a loose ball and one gets control, why should the other player draw a foul for touching him on the waist down?" Bush queries. "The purpose of the play has been achieved, the one team has possession of the ball and the game should continue."

"Some of the most thrilling moments in a basketball game occur when a defensive player blocks a shot, but he usually is charged with a foul because of slight contact," Jerry says.

About the quickest way to destroy interest in a basketball game is watch an endless parade to the foul line. We like to see good defensive play as well as good offensive play. And strapping young fellows aren't going to be seriously injured by slight contact.

Bush hits the nail squarely with the observation that "only a couple of fouls are called in practice scrimmages, and every one survives. Why should there be so many fouls in a game, particularly on players who may bump an opponent far away from the play or when the contact doesn't impede the progress of the "offended" team?

The bonus free throw rule now will be in force for the full game and the free throw lanes will be 12 feet apart instead of six. Coaches seem agreed that all the latter will do is make the use of the zone defense more widespread.

But the problems of basketball haven't been solved. Jerry Bush and the other coaches have the answer—more contact.

And we agree wholeheartedly. This is no criticism of the officials. Bush doesn't feel the officials are to blame either. What is needed is a re-education of every one concerned so that non-direct bearing fouls don't cause the fans to have fits and the officials don't have to watch every little move in an effort to detect a bump.

It would be much easier on the officials and a much better game if the negligible fouls were given the "deep six."

Bush tells an amusing incident, concerning Dr. Phog Allen of Kansas, at the finals of the NCAA tournament.

After watching USF's giant Bill Russell serve as a "funnel" for his teammates by guiding shots through the hoop, Allen—long a proponent of raising the baskets to make it tougher for the big men — turned to Jerry and commented:

"I've been wrong about raising the basket to 12 feet, Jerry. We ought to raise it to 20."

Diving Sweep, Baseball Win Boosts U.S. Score

By TED SMITS

MEXICO CITY — Olympic champion Pat McCormick of Los Angeles led a U.S. sweep in the women's high-board diving finals and the Yankee baseball team clinched second place Tuesday in the Pan-American Games.

Two demonstrations marred activities, however, as these hemispheric Olympics drew near their close.

John Kobs, coach of the U.S. baseball team, disclosed that the bus transporting his team was stoned by some boys as it left the stadium after Monday's game. The windows were shattered and fortunately no one was hurt.

Heckle Judges

At the swimming stadium late Tuesday afternoon the crowd became unruly and started heckling the judges.

Mrs. McCormick gave another of her brilliant performances from the 3-meter board and won the championship with an almost unanimous vote of the various judges. Jeanne Stunyo of Detroit finished second and Emily Houghton of Lafayette, Ind., third to give the United States 18 points in the unofficial scoring.

This was the lone championship decided Tuesday. Two of the U.S. entries in the men's butterfly competition — Bill Yorzyk and John Nelson of the Army — qualified for the finals but the National AAU butterfly stroke champion, Richard Faden, formerly of N.C. State, was eliminated.

Uncle Sam's baseball team walloped Venezuela 13-2 in its final game to sew up the runner-up spot in the tournament it was favored to win. The championship went to the strong Dominican Republic club, which closed out with a 13-8 victory over the Dutch West Indies.

The Dominicans wound up with a 6-2 winning record while the United States had a 5-3 mark.

The diving competition was delayed until the late afternoon and the chill proved a handicap to the shivering girls.

Nevertheless, Mrs. McCormick, who holds virtually every diving title available, put on a breathtaking show, closing out with a back one-and-a-half twist for a score of 90.

Near-Serious Accident

One contestant, Angela Botella of Mexico, during the confusion of the crowd's heckling tactics, slipped on a difficult dive and hit her head on the board as she fell toward the water. She was not seriously injured. After this near-serious accident, the crowd subsided.

Yorzyk, from Springfield, Mass., won his heat in the 200-meter butterfly preliminaries in 2:49.2. Faden was a disappointment in this heat, finishing third in 2:56.2.

The second heat produced the faster times with Eulalio Rios of Mexico winning it in 2:37.8. Nelson was third in 2:42.2 but in good enough time to qualify.

Pastrano Slated For TV Debut

CHICAGO (AP)—Willie Pastrano, a teen-ager who had to get special permission from his mother to fight 10 rounds, will be introduced to television's national boxing fans tonight against durable Al Andrews, 26-year-old Superior, Wis., middleweight.

Pastrano, who turned pro four years ago when he was 15, needed his mother's blessing under Illinois boxing law which prohibits a fighter not yet 20 years of age to sign for more than eight rounds without a special waiver.

The Chicago Stadium scrap, starting at 9 p.m. CST, marks the good-looking Pastrano's first ring appearance above the Mason-Dixon line. He is a native of New Orleans but has been campaigning out of Miami Beach, Fla., recently and hopes to make his home there with his wife. The couple expects a baby in July.

Pastrano has been impressive in workouts with a sneaky right and a fine left jab. Some ringbirds think Andrews has been matched with a "sleeper" and will have his hands full trying to win.

Replaces Joey

The Southern youngster was signed by the International Boxing Club as a replacement for Joey Giardello, convicted last week in Philadelphia of assault charges.

Andrews' only fight this year resulted in a defeat by Giardello in Norfolk Jan. 27.

The rugged Wisconsin battler has a record of 31 victories, 10 losses and 2 draws. Last fall he knocked out Gil Turner in the third round at Chicago Stadium (the first time he ever leveled an opponent for the count) and less than two months later outpointed Chico Verona in the same ring.

Pastrano has had 35 pro bouts, winning 29, losing 4 and drawing twice. He is credited with only eight kayos but he, himself, has never been knocked off his feet.

Among Pastrano's victims are Bobby Dykes, Jacques Royer, Jimmy Martinez and Kackie LaBua. He expects to weigh about 164 while Andrews will come in around 159, the heaviest he ever has been.

Yankee Stadium Is Sold By Owner Of Athletics

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., (AP)—Arnold Johnson, the Kansas City Athletics' owner who got into baseball through a real estate deal, Tuesday sold the Yankee Stadium to a long-time friend, John M. Cox of Chicago, for an undisclosed sum.

The sale ended a long and complicated series of transactions connected with the purchase of the Athletics and their transfer to Kansas City. When the transfer was approved, Nov. 8, Johnson agreed to dispose of his interest in Yankee Stadium within 90 days. It took him a little longer to find a buyer for the property, which he obtained in 1953 for $6,500,000.

In closing the deal, Johnson said "I have been paid in full, either cash or real estate, and thus my connection with Yankee Stadium is completely and permanently severed."

Johnson at one time owned three major league baseball parks—Yankee Stadium, Connie Mack Stadium in Philadelphia and the Kansas City Stadium. He sold the Philadelphia park to Bob Carpenter, owner of the Phillies, for a reported $1,600,000 and the Kansas City park to the city for $650,000, leasing it back for his club.

Cox, the new stadium owner, is

Ted Fishes, Boston Waits

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—The burning baseball question of whether Ted Williams will retire or sign another contract to play for the Boston Red Sox was no nearer an answer Tuesday as the big fellow was reported back fishing in the Florida Keys.

Red Sox officials reiterated they had heard nothing from the slugging outfielder as Boston took the field for an exhibition game with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

It was understood Williams met over the weekend with lawyers concerning a settlement with his wife, from whom he is separated. But friends reported he was back in the Florida Keys again, some 325 miles from Sarasota.

General Manager Joe Cronin says the situation is the same. Joe has been telling the writers covering the camp that if, or when Williams signs up "you'll be the first to know."

Monday clubhouse boy Johnnie Orlando buffed up three pairs of spiked shoes and placed them in Williams' locker. And then he put the big guy's name over the locker.

Today — shoes gone; name down.

From time to time, ever since the ball clubs began their spring training programs, there have been unfounded stories that Williams will sign tomorrow, or the next day, or the day after tomorrow.

The youngest player on the major league rosters this spring is infielder Harmon Killebrew of the Washington Senators. He's 18.

Solons Okay Study Of Laws

The Legislature voted 33 to 2 Tuesday to adopt a resolution calling for a Legislative Council study of Nebraska's game and fish laws and the state game commission.

In a brief debate, Sen. Diers of Gresham asked if the proposed study might disrupt the game commission's current reorganization program.

Sen. Syas of Omaha, sponsor of the resolution, replied that he didn't think it would and added: "I know a lot of hunters and fishermen are asking for a look."

Sen. Lee of Fremont then asked if the resolution is meant to cast aspersions on a Legislative Council study of the state parks last year.

Syas answered that no such intent was involved but added that another look at the parks would likely be a part of the game commission study.

In its reorganization program, the game commission last week eliminated two offices in order to provide greater funds for game and fish replenishing.

semester hours of college work during the current semester.

He also announced that 50 men participated in the Wesleyan basketball program this past winter including a fifteen man "B" squad which lost but two games during the season and a 23-man freshman squad which played a full schedule in the Lincoln city league and lost out in the final game for the city championship.

Six of the 12 varsity lettermen are seniors; three juniors; two sophomores; and one a freshman. The lettermen:

Family Deserter OK'd To Ride In Cycle Races

ALESSANDRIA, Italy (AP)—Italian cycling champion Fausto Coppi will be able to compete in forthcoming foreign races by virtue of temporary permits which will be granted by police.

Coppi's passport was withdrawn pending charges against him of abandoning his family. Earlier this month, Coppi was found guilty and got a two-month suspended sentence.

10 Track Vets Running At CV

Ten lettermen are running for Coach Jim Keill at College View in preparation for the opening meet of the season today in the Coliseum.

Keill, a Whittier Junior High teacher and coach, is working with his first College View squad. The Viewmen will face Teachers High and Malcolm in a triangular today.

Lettermen are Dan Duff, Harlan Mook, Larry Epp, Glen Hoy, Jeff Cheuvront, Louis Brown, Lowell Ham, Gene Reed, Wayne Michaelis and Ron Eley.

The schedule:
March 23—Teachers and Malcolm in Coliseum.
April 1—Blair and Ashland at North east; 22—Mid-East Conference at Hastings; 23—Public Schools Meet at Wesleyan (quod).

State Mental Health Authority Bill Gets Ax

A Board of Control-sponsored measure to establish a statewide mental health authority was killed by the Legislature's Public Health Committee Tuesday.

Six committee members voted against the bill, LB 383, with the seventh senator abstaining.

The bill would have established a State Mental Health Division under the Board of Control. The division was to include the director of the Nebraska Psychiatric Institute at Omaha and the superintendents of the state mental hospitals.

Dr. Cecil Wittson, director of the Psychiatric Institute, would have become state mental health director.

Another provision of the measure would have served the state board of health from the mental health program. The Board of Health now administers federal mental health funds.

William H. Diers, Board of Control chairman, urged the bill's adoption at a public hearing, but spokesmen for the Nebraska Medical Assn. were not enthusiastic.

In a special executive session, the Public Health Committee also killed LB 399, a bill that would have permitted Nebraska osteopaths to practice medicine on the same status as physicians.

The vote was 4 to 2 with one abstention.

LB 399, bitterly opposed by the State Medical Assn., would have given graduates of osteopathic colleges the right to take the same examination given to graduates of medical colleges.

If they passed the test, the osteopaths then would be permitted to practice surgery and administer such drugs as penicillin and sulfa drugs.

In other action, the committee: Killed LB 439, providing that osteopaths must take an annual refresher course, by a 4 to 1 vote with one abstention.

Unanimously voted to report out LB 64, permitting city councils to fix salaries of plumbing inspectors.

Unanimously voted to kill LB 490, repealing the section relating to plumbing inspection in Omaha and Lincoln.

Consideration Of Tax Reform Is Slow

The Legislature Tuesday began consideration of the 1955 tax reform program, but had made little headway by adjournment time.

First on the list of four measures is LB 148, which would substitute "basic value" for actual value in determining worth of property for assessment purposes.

The original bill listed five factors: earning capacity; location; desirability; replacement cost, less depreciation; and comparison with other property of recognized value.

The only action Tuesday was the addition of "functional use" to the list of factors. This amendment was offered by Sen. Tvrdek of Omaha.

A proposal by Sen. Lee of Fremont to add "obsolescence" did not fare so well, finally losing 13 to 20 on a record vote, after Sen. Burney of Hartington protested addition of additional factors would serve only to confuse the assessors.

Sen. Liebers of Lincoln, principal introducer of the tax bills, declared "depreciation," properly analyzed, would cover the situation.

"But spelling it out won't hurt the bill," he added.

Floor consideration of the tax bills is scheduled to be resumed Wednesday.

The bill clearing the way for the Omaha School District to dispose of the Central High School site in downtown Omaha in case a new high school elsewhere became more desirable finally got the "green light" in the Legislature Tuesday.

The measure advanced from general file on a voice vote after rejection of a proposal by Sen. Klaver of Omaha to allow the people of Omaha to vote on the question.

State To Vote On Allocation Of Truck Fines

Nebraska voters will express their opinion next year on a proposed change in distribution of fines collected from operators of overloaded trucks.

The money now goes to schools in the counties where the fines are collected. But recently the other 81 counties have become envious of the 12 counties in which the State Highway Department's truck weighing scales are located.

LB 86, as introduced by Sens. Cramer of Albion, Beaver of Beaver and Shultz of Rogers, originally proposed putting the money into the state school fund. The amount involved slightly exceeds $100,000 a year.

The bill was amended on the floor to put 25 per cent of the fine in the general fund of the county where collected and the remaining 75 per cent in the state highway fund.

The argument was that the money should be used for roads since the truck weight law was designed to protect the highways from overloads.

A constitutional amendment is required to change the system. LB 86 Tuesday received 26 votes on final reading, exactly the minimum required to place a proposed amendment on the ballot.

There were 14 "no" votes.

The vote:

Seven bills passed Tuesday on final reading. The complete list:

LB 86, Cramer, Beaver, Shultz. Providing for vote in 1956 on constitutional amendment changing allocation of fines from truck overloading. 26-14.

LB 215, J. Adams. Prescribing residence requirements in divorce actions for persons in armed forces stationed in Nebraska. 26-1.

LB 208, Person. Providing for mailing of notice ten days in advance of hearing on application to zone or rezoning property in first and second class cities. 40-0.

LB 151, Tvrdek, Klaver, Swa. Defining use of radar in determining speed of motor vehicles. (E) 37-3.

LB 281, Brower, Martin. Providing procedure for determination of heirship. 39-0.

LB 535, Judiciary Committee. Providing for filing of notices in Women's compensation Court on next business day when final day falls on Saturday, Sunday, or holiday. 40-0.

LB 302, Cramer. Providing for payment of tuition by board of class II and III school district when the best interest of the pupil or school may so require. 30-0.

Regardless of make or year, your car will benefit from Conoco Super Gasoline, the fuel that combines a controlled higher-octane rating with all the power benefits of TCP!

Whether you're the proud owner of one of these 1955 beauties . . . or are still getting dependable service from your present car . . . isn't it time you benefited from Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP? Make no mistake about it! Here is no ordinary fuel, but an astonishing new kind of gasoline that sets free every ounce of power packed into today's wonderful high-compression engines . . . a gasoline that virtually tunes up any engine by the time you've finished your second tankful!

Feel that powerful difference today!

Remember: TCP attacks the greatest single cause of power loss in car engines—the formation of lead deposits on spark plugs and in combustion chambers. With TCP on the job, these deposits are neutralized, so you enjoy maximum power and response always! This week, start using Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP . . . and you'll see why the greatest gasoline development in 31 years became the greatest success in gasoline history!

THE BENEFITS OF TCP—PROVED BY OVER 8 MILLION USERS!

1. TCP boosts your car's power as much as 15% (because it neutralizes power-robbing lead deposits on spark plugs and in combustion chambers).
2. TCP gives you extra gas mileage (motorists report up to 3 miles more per gallon).
3. TCP is just like an engine tune-up (because it lets you enjoy all the power your car was built to deliver).
4. TCP increases spark-plug life up to 150% (because it actually fireproofs your spark plugs).
5. TCP is your guarantee of Top Car Performance (because it brings out all the extra performance of Conoco Super's controlled higher-octane rating).

Sixth A-Blast In '55 Series Sprinkles Radioactive Particles On Las Vegas

...Marines, Civilians In No Danger

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—An atomic cloud sprinkled light radioactive particles on Las Vegas Tuesday but authorities said there was no danger to civilians or to Marines maneuvering at the test site.

The medium-size blast, sixth of the 1955 test series on Yucca Flat, sent up a towering cloud that was blown directly over this city of 55,000 for the first time in five years of nuclear weapons experimenting in Nevada.

From 40,000 feet, the cloud dropped invisible bits of matter that gave Geiger counter readings of 10 milliroentgens per hour at the test site.

Cigar Tax Gets Quick Ax In Smoky Room

A proposal to collect a state tax of 50 cents a box on cigars quickly got the ax in the Legislature's revenue committee Tuesday in a haze of blue smoke.

The vote to kill the measure was 8 to 1, after Glenn Baldwin, Lincoln wholesaler, charged the proposed tax would be "helping kill an industry that is already sick."

He predicted such a tax would be difficult to enforce, and would encourage bootlegging.

"It's unfair," he concluded.

Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha, introducer of the bill, said several states have such a tax, and hinted it might bring in as much as $300,000 a year.

Nebraska's present three-cent-a-pack on cigars brings in between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 a year.

In other action the committee rejected a proposal to reduce the proposed oil severance tax from 2 per cent to 1 per cent. Technical amendments to the bill, LB 216, then were approved and the measure was sent to the floor on a 6 to 3 vote.

LB 152, giving the state tax commissioner more power to formulate and promulgate regulations pertaining to assessment of property was reported out on a 7 to 0 vote.

These bills were killed:

LB 423, providing additional duties for county equalization boards; LB 22, increasing allowance for collection of motor fuels tax; LB 75, providing that excise tax shall be considered a part of the cost of motor fuels for tax purposes; and LB 440, creating a state board of tax review.

Nellis Air Force Base in North Las Vegas. The highest reading in town was 5 mr. Normal is 2 mr. The Atomic Energy Commission termed the increase insignificant.

Elaborate Maneuvers
Most fallout reported offsite was 70 mr. on the Air Force bombing range just south of Yucca Flat, which is 75 miles from Las Vegas.

The 500 foot tower shot was used by 2,000 men of the 3rd Marine Corps Provisional Atomic Exercise Brigade, Camp Pendleton, Calif., for the most elaborate maneuvers yet held at the AEC site. The Marines ducked in six-foot trenches 3,500 yards from ground zero as molten bits of steel tower fell back to the ground.

Ten minutes after the blast, radiation safety teams gave the okay and helicopters began flying the atomic brigade forward in a simulated attack on an enemy stronghold. A 28-helicopter shuttle service moved nearly all of the 2,000 men forward within two hours.

Mopping Up
The brigade included riflemen, machine gunners, mortar men, and artillerymen.

It was moving in to mop up—how close to ground zero was not disclosed—after a simulated bombing attack by 22 Marine F9F2 Panther jets.

The Marines were testing new tactical concepts trying to determine how fast an atomic explosion can be exploited against an enemy.

Brownell To Talk To Stock Growers

U. S. Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., former Nebraskan, will make a speaking appearance here in June.

Brownell will be principal speaker at the Nebraska Stock Growers Association's 66th annual convention June 9-11. He will talk at the banquet June 10.

It will be Lincoln's first time as host to the association's convention. The meetings previously have been held in Omaha or in sandhills cities.

Other speakers will include Jay Taylor of Amarillo, Tex., president of the American National Cattlemen's Assn.; Harry Coffee, president of Omaha's Union Stock-yards; Nebraska University Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin; Carl Neumann of Chicago, General manager of the National Livestock and Meat Board; J. S. Brenner, Grant, Mont., cattleman, and Tom Collins, Kansas City humorist.

Wesleyan Concert Band Begins State Tour With Public Performance Here

The Nebraska Wesleyan University 60-piece concert band will launch its seventh annual statewide spring concert tour Thursday morning with a public appearance in C. C. White auditorium on the campus at 10 a.m.

Actually, Prof. Robert Marshall will not take the group on the road until Monday when an appearance at Friend High School will start the 10 day tour during which 26 appearances will be made in 24 different Nebraska communities.

In addition to selections by the band, the repertoire will include selections by a trumpet trio, a saxophone sextet, a Dixieland four-piece, a girl's trio, a baton twirling act, an intermission specialty act featuring talented Carl Hoon and trumpet, saxophone, bass and vocal soloists.

As a feature number, the band will perform an original fantasy arranged by Jeanne Lindstrom.

April 26 Is Set As Date For School Bond Bids

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

The Board of Education has set April 26 as the tentative date for receiving bids on the sale of the $10 million school bond issue.

The date was recommended by Dale Tinstman of the First Trust Company, fiscal agent for the Board. Tinstman stated that the April 26 date should not be in conflict with any other big sales across the country.

Dates were also set by the Board for receiving bids on several construction projects.

The first of these will be April 15 when bids will be taken on the estimated $160,000 addition of six classrooms to East Huntington School.

May 6 has been set as the date for receiving bids on the $310,000 second addition to Holmes. This project includes 12 classrooms and kindergarten.

Bids have previously been scheduled to be received April 8 on the Belmont addition.

Election Of 26 Teachers Okayed

The Board of Education approved the election of 26 teachers for the 1955-56 school year. They are:

Mary Joan Anderson, primary; Barbara Hale Beck, primary; Mrs. Henrietta Carroll, primary; Marilyn Joan Cornean, primary; Keith Artell Frost, upper elementary; Mrs. Ruth Ann Fritts, intermediate; Itha J. Frost, upper elementary; Mrs. Margaret S. Harman, intermediate; Mrs. Martha M. Nelson, intermediate; Juanalee I. Rockwell, kindergarten; Sabra Jo Heccey Smith, primary; Ramon Mae Watkins, primary; Marjorie Sue Young, kindergarten.

Purchase Of Lot, House Approved

The Board of Education has approved the purchase for $5,000 of a lot and house adjoining East Huntington School to the north.

The Board also authorized its real estate committee to continue negotiations on the purchase of an adjacent piece of property.

Negotiations are also to be continued toward the purchase of a house and six lots directly north of Belmont School.

Approved was the purchase for $3,500 of a block of ground at 60th and Aspleyworth. This, along with additional property yet to be purchased.

New System May Cut Schools Cost

A new policy will be followed in the future by the Board of Education in architectural services on construction projects.

The Board approved a system whereby it would furnish the inspection service on construction jobs. This service is now supplied by the architects.

For furnishing this service, the Board hopes to be able to cut about 1 percent off of the fee paid the architects. Architects fees are generally about 5 per cent of the cost of the work being done.

Architects have been approved by the Board on the following projects:

Pershing, seven classroom addition, Selmer Solheim.
Hawthorne, seven classroom addition, Fritz Craig.
Bethany, six classroom addition, Davis and Wilson.

College View remodeling, Neumann-Gibbs.
New primary school at 40th and Franklin, Hazen and Robinson.

Church Use OK
The Board of Education has approved the use of Holmes School for Sunday morning services by the Eastridge Presbyterian Church.

Approval covers a one year period but the church expressed hope of being in its new quarters before the year is over.

Budget Committee Inspects Capitol's Electrical Controls

Members of the Legislature's Budget Committee took time out Tuesday for a first-hand look at the State Capitol's electrical control panel.

The inspection was made in connection with testimony that the panel has become inadequate.

The committee was considering budget needs of the superintendent of the capitol building and governor's mansion.

A general fund appropriation of $580,000, less an estimated $20,000 carryover, was asked for the department in Gov. Anderson's budget message. This total compares with some $696,000 appropriated two years ago.

State Turnpike Board Needs Broad Powers—Gov. Anderson

Gov. Victor E. Anderson Tuesday called the broad powers possessed by the State Turnpike Authority necessary if a toll road is ever to be built in Nebraska.

State Sen. William Metzger of Cedar Creek, author of a bill to abolish the authority, has objected strongly to the powers given the three member board when established in 1953.

Sen. O. H. Person of Wahoo, testifying on the Metzger bill at a public hearing last week, called the bill establishing the authority one of the most "vicious" he has ever seen.

"I'm not afraid to give power to people who know how to handle it," the governor said Tuesday. "It's a different story when you give it to irresponsible people. But with the caliber of personnel on the authority, I'm not afraid."

Anderson called the three Turnpike Board members "conservative people" who would not abuse the powers. The members are appointed by the governor for six year terms. No confirmation by the Legislature is necessary.

Board members are Albert Held, Lincoln banker; John B. Cook, Scottsbluff businessman, and Raymond McGrath, Omaha attorney.

Sen. Metzger has objected to the authority's power to condemn, buy, and sell land and to the absence of any supervision over the body by the Legislature.

"You'll need power or otherwise you'd never get a toll road built," Gov. Anderson added. "It's no use to have a Turnpike Authority without any authority."

The bill to abolish the authority is being studied by the Legislature's Public Works Committee.

Gov. Anderson previously has declared a superhighway across Nebraska, whether it be a part of a free interstate road system or a toll road, to be necessary for the continued economic growth of Nebraska.

Study Of Mentally Handicapped OK

A resolution authorizing a Legislative Council study of the education of mentally handicapped children was unanimously adopted by the Legislature Tuesday.

The vote was 38 to 0.

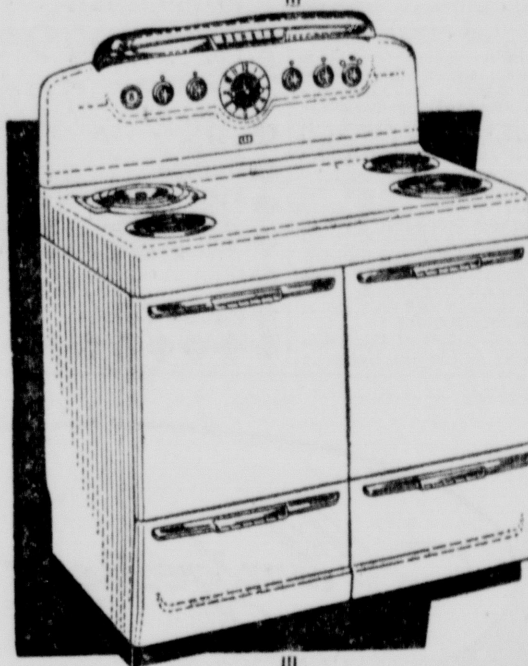

The introducer of the resolution, Sen. Perry of Lincoln, explained that the children to be affected by the study are those considered uneducable by the public schools but not sufficiently retarded to be admitted to the State Home for the Feeble Minded at Beatrice.

"I'm not presenting a bill for funds to solve this problem, but it should have a Legislative Council study," said Perry.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

NEW YORK (INS)—A bandit with a "sweet tooth" held up a New York bakery.

Eileen Garvin, the clerk, told police she was alone in the shop when the man entered and gave her a note reading:

"This is a stickup. I have a gun in my pocket. Hand over the money from the register."

Miss Garvin gave the bandit $17, whereupon he said:

"I'll take one of those chocolate layer cakes. Please do it up nicely in a box."

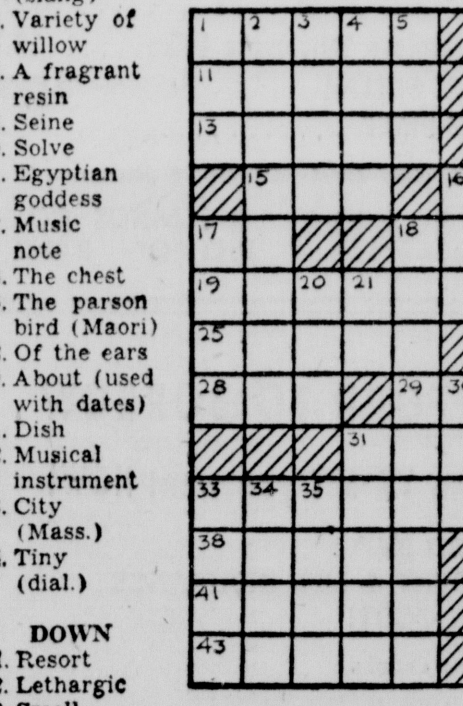

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Police think the marauders who broke into Fairfield School cafeteria were about 10 years old.

They based this conclusion on the measurement of teeth marks on a large slab of cheese.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

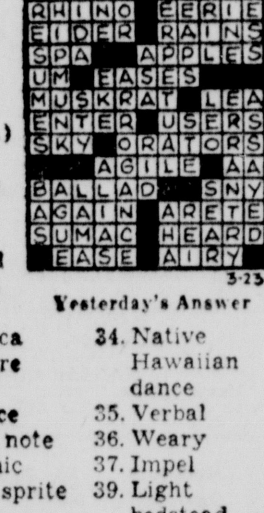

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

U.S. Stand On George's Plan For Russ Talk Clouded

WASHINGTON (AP)—A series of official statements left in doubt Tuesday just where the administration stands on the proposal by Sen. George (D-Ga.) for a conference with Russia.

The only thing that seemed certain was that neither the White House nor the State Department wanted to get into any public dispute with George. He is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and has proposed a Big Four meeting to try to lessen world tension.

President Eisenhower will have an opportunity at his news conference Wednesday morning to clarify the administration attitude.

Statute Of Limitations Stalls Extradition Of Tecumseh Man

A statute of limitations question has stalled — at least temporarily — the extradition to Iowa of R. L. Miller of Tecumseh, Neb., it was disclosed Tuesday.

A Nebraska attorney general's opinion supplied to Gov. Victor E. Anderson has questioned whether Miller can properly be returned to Iowa in view of the time that has elapsed since the offenses alleged were committed.

At an informal hearing before the governor Tuesday afternoon, Iowa's Assistant Attorney General Ken Emery argued that the statute of limitations issue is not pertinent at this stage. It can be raised in court as an "affirmative defense" but "has no relevancy to issues raised in extradition proceedings," he contended.

"Changes Outlawed" Miller's attorney, on the other hand, said "no cause would be served" by returning Miller to Iowa. The attorney, Robert S. Finn of Tecumseh, said there is "no question" but that the time lapse has outlawed the charges and that Miller's appearance in Iowa would be "only a formality leading to his discharge."

Miller is sought in Crawford

County, Iowa, for arraignment on a two-count indictment returned last year by a grand jury. The indictment charges conspiracy and intent to conspire in connection with affairs of the Boyer River Drainage District No. 2.

Miller is a salesman for the Capital City Bridge Co., of Lincoln.

Also under indictment are Chriss Olson, former Crawford County supervisor, and Leonard Hassett, a county maintenance shed foreman. Requests for dismissal of the indictments against Olson and Hassett have been taken under advisement in Iowa.

Gov. Anderson deferred a decision on the Miller extradition and invited Emery to submit cases to support his contentions. Emery said he would do so.

Habeas Corpus Possible

Should the extradition be granted, Miller's attorneys could be expected to resist his removal to Iowa with a habeas corpus action.

Attending the hearing were Sheriff N. P. Cavett and County Attorney R. K. Brannon, both of Crawford County; Guy C. Chambers, Lincoln attorney also representing Miller, and assistant Nebraska Attorney General Richard Williams.

"I do want to be fair with the state of Iowa," Gov. Anderson told the group. But he said he has to rely on the counsel of his attorney general's office.

Miller's attorneys said the offenses occurred not later than 1948.

Finn told the hearing that Miller has been available since 1946 and submitted affidavits to support that contention. He disputed Iowa's contention that Miller's whereabouts hadn't been known.

prepared statement said George's views, first disclosed Sunday, were "in harmony" with those of Dulles.

4. After first refusing to elaborate, a State Department spokesman, press officer Henry Suydam, called reporters together an hour later to say: The department was also standing on a statement issued Monday which expressed opposition to any conference until there is evidence "of a basis for agreement, especially on German and Austrian problems."

Dulles himself had some off-the-cuff comment on the subject later in the afternoon. After addressing an off-the-record meeting of the Advertising Council at a downtown hotel, he told a reporter who questioned him the United States could not change its previous opposition to an early Big Four meeting without consulting its major allies. He said he had not read George's proposal but planned to meet with him soon, perhaps Wednesday, to learn specifically what he has in mind.

Dulles, interviewed in the hotel lobby, made his brief comment just as he jumped into a revolving door leading to the sidewalk where his limousine was waiting. He ignored a second question about whether the department had started such consultations with its allies.

Run Caretaker Service Drop At Cornlea Asked

The Chicago and North Western Railroad Tuesday asked the State Railway Commission for authority to discontinue caretaker service at Cornlea, Neb.

The request also involves removal of all station facilities from the Platte County community.

The North Western contended in its application that an agent telegrapher at Lindsay, seven miles away, provides service for Cornlea and added that there is no passenger service on that branch.

Agency service at Cornlea was suspended in November, 1939.
